Dear Frances,

Remember, I am writing in your annual, after postponing it several times. You know how it is. Well Frances, our friendship has not been as long as I would have liked it to be. For who knows? I may have known you better. But during our friendship, we have had many pleasant experiences, and some wonderful times, which I can never forget. It is no use telling about my happy days we had spent, because they shall always cling to our memories.

Well Frances, you will go your way, & I shall go mine. We may see each other often, and we may not. However I hope you the best of success throughout your entire life. I hope your wishes will be fulfilled & your ambitions carried out. Keep up the pep that you have always had, because you will need it some day. Don't lose your smile. For it also may come in handy.

To

GEORGE E. BETTINGER,

who as our new principal, has shown himself to be a friend who is sincerely interested in every individual member of the A. H. S. student body, we, the staff of 1926, wish to dedicate this issue of the Alhambran.

School Song

(Tune, "Solomon Levi")

If you come up to Alhambra
You'll find a high school there
That's far ahead of any school
You'll show us anywhere.

Chorus

For we've got the finest fellows
That ever said do or die;
They're in to win through thick and thin
For dear Alhambra high.

(Alhambra High School, Rah! Rah! Rah!)
For we've got the finest fellows
That ever said do or die;
They're in to win through thick and thin
For dear Alhambra High.

We're backing you, Alhambra;
We'll cheer you with our might,
We'll boost you on to victory;
We're bound to win the fight.

May 10th, 1926.

The history of A. H. S. shows a steady progress forward toward the ideals of scholarship, athletic achievement and citizenship. Progress means change, and change means the discarding of old habits and customs and the substituting therefor of newer and better habits and customs. This year has seen us throw aside practices which we have outgrown and has seen us take our place with the larger schools of Southern California.

The growth of Alhambra High School has been remarkable both as to numbers and the quality of endeavor and school citizenship displayed. Too often quality is sacrifiiced when quantity enters and I am proud to say that "The Spirit and Worth of A. H. S." burns no less brightly because of increased size. Our teams have maintained our reputation for keen and clean competition and I am confident that our opponents have respected and appreciated our ability and good sportsmanship.

GEORGE E. BETTINGER.

Board of Education

In the rapidly developing High School like our own, progress can be completely measured by the ordinary standards of attendence, teaching force, and equipment. A great deal of energy is necessarily directed to shaping its tendencies, and to setting in train the forces, which should go far toward realizing the higher ideals sought in its future development.

These larger plans, this building for the future, must be considered in estimating the importance of any period in the history of our school. Keeping in mind this broader basis of judgment, it is believed that the past year has been singularly significant. Some dreams are as yet unrealized, but the story is, we feel, a record of achievement. Students, Faculty and Board of Education have exemplified the habit of co-operation. Self government has made progress; scholarship has risen, and team-work is an actuality.

Of somewhat different order, but in its way indicative of substantial progress, is the inauguration of the summer school. In opening the doors of the high school for a period of six weeks, during the vacation season, Mr. Routt, superintendent, and members of the Board of Education recognize the obligation laid upon them to distribute the benefits of secondary school education as widely as means will permit.

We look forward, confidently, to greater achievements, visioning closer co-operation and more efficient functioning of the respective elements which constitute the administrative forces and the members of the student body of Alhambra High School.

BOARD OF EDUCATION,

(Mrs.) Lillian M. Gilstrap, Vice-President.

CLASSES
Verna Bates

Although the annals of the winter class of '26 are now part of the history of A. H. S., our graduation is such a recent experience that we still feel closely related to the activities of the school and interested in it's life.

The winter class of '26 was the largest mid-year group to be graduated from A. H. S. We were well represented in all lines of school activity—athletics, Girls' League and other student body affairs.

The class play, "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." directed by Paul Ritter, was the first costume play to be presented as a class production at A. H. S. It was a success from both a box office and financial standpoint.

Working in conjunction with the present A12 class and the Sophomores, we defeated the Juniors and Freshmen in a spirited paper drive. Those who participated actively in this affair will no doubt remember it for some time.

The winter class presented somewhat of an innovation in the Class Day program. This was written by Mrs. Clements and personally directed by her.

It is customary for graduates to express sweet sorrow when old class days, now gone forever, are recalled. With us, however, so recently graduated, this feeling is not yet apparent. Sometimes, perhaps, but not now. And for another reason we claim distinction—not one of our members tripping over an examination barrier while coming down the home stretch, failed to make the goal.

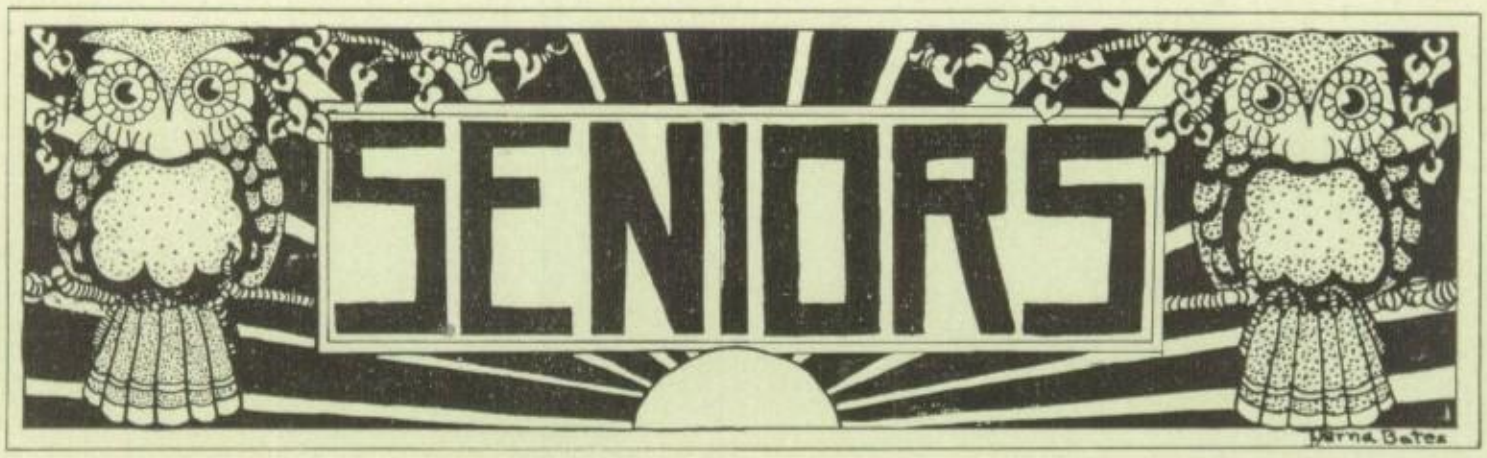
Dream not that freedom will get— .
For you will have a wife to rule you yet.



One morning in September, long ago, in the year 1922, there arrived on the campus the largest, perhaps the most frightened, and yet destined to be the greatest class that ever went through A. H. S. Every class in the history of the school has probably the thought itself the greatest and just a little bit better than any preceding class. However, the fact remains that the Class of '26 really is the greatest that ever spent four years in an earnest endeavor to teach the faculty something. If you doubt this, ask any of the prominent individuals whose names appear on the Class role.

Going back again to that now distant day in 1922, this insignificant-looking group soon lost greenish-hue and childish ways and entered into every Student Body activity with an enthusiasm that challenged even that that of the Seniors. Our first and most outstanding achievement of the year was the securing of 100% Student Body membership, the first time this had been accomplished by a freshman class. In so doing we even went so far as to beat the sophomores, establishing a record which all future freshman classes will try to equal. As can be expected our class was ably represented in the lightweight division of the various sports. We were always evident in large numbers at the games. Again, to the tune of the wails and groans of the Sophs, we defeated them in our winter class debate. Our two social events of the year, a dance and skating party were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. In short, in every activity the class of '26 proved that it had a super attendance of pep and enthusiasm, the two qualities so essential for class success. And so it was with satisfaction as well as relief that we graduated from the ranks of the "Frosh."

The following September we again piled on to the campus—a little smaller, with our heads a little higher, and with a firm resolve to continue our success of the previous year. Repeating our record made as Freshman, we immediately secured 100% Student Body membership. Entering into the field of athletics with our characteristic "pep" we were a great help to the teams, having a number of first-string men. In all the activities we had similar success. During this, our second year, we not only "Caught" the "Spirit of A. H. S.," but we gave it a material "boost."

Another year rolled by and we came back to school with our heads still a little higher, for behold, we were upper classmen. Fully realizing our responsibility as such, we were resolved not only to have a good time, but to play more than our part in the various activities of the school. The first big event of the year in which the "Frosh" were our "collegues," was won by the Seniors and Sophs by only a few pounds. We next overwhelmed our traditional rivals in the inter-class debate. Again we showed our superiority when we defeated, not only the Seniors, but the whole school, in the school track meet. Our first dramatic production, the "Successful Calamity" proved that we possessed versatility as well as enthusiasm. Even the Seniors were forced to admit that the Junior-Senior Prom, given by us in honor of our graduating "friends" was the most enjoyable dance ever held in the gym. Perhaps our biggest contribution to the school during the year was the part played by our members on all of the athletic teams. Our members were also evident in large numbers on the debating squad. Our junior year was an overwhelming success, both from the standpoint of the class and from the standpoint of the school as a whole.

At last the destined day came and we came to school with our heads still higher in the air for we had now reached the top and were Seniors. Our records throughout the year are so numerous that space does not permit the enumerating of all of them. Needless to say we were just in the 100% Student Body drive, followed closely by the B9 freshman.

Freshman, we congratulate you on your school spirit, keep it up!

The members of the Senior Class, repeating their success of previous years, were largely responsible for our success in athletics. Four of the debaters are members of the Class of '26. The Spotlight was managed and made a success largely by the efforts of our members. The Honor Roll bears many a Senior name. The scholarship record made by the class is one which everyone can be duly proud. We need but mention our Senior Play, the "Romantic Age" and everyone recalls what a huge success it was.

The good times that the class has had have been very numerous. We have not only worked, but we have had, we believe, more than our share of fun. The "Hick Dance" put on by the Class was a good expression of our originality and pep. As the year comes to a close, every one of us comes to the realization that it is certainly true that "School Days are the happiest days of one's life." Our school days have indeed been happy, but at the same time highly profitable ones. At all our social gatherings, and there have been many, the traditional "Senior Spirit" has been evident.

In closing, the Class of '26 sincerely thanks our class adviser, Mr. Wood, for everything he has done for us. He has indeed been a friend to all. We also wish to express our appreciation to the entire faculty for their help and cooperation.

So as we say good-bye to A. H. S. we wish to the present class and to the many succeeding ones, the best of luck. May your years at A. H. S. be as enjoyable and as profitable as those spent by the Class of '26. Carry on the "Spirit of A. H. S.," let it live, as it lives in the hearts of every member of the Summer Class of nineteen hundred and twenty-six.

Senior Song

(Tune, "Ah! Ha!")

At Alhambra in the year of 1922,
Freshman arrived on the campus;
In the four years we've done the work we've had to do
T'was rather hard if you ask us
But we've gone to the games and we've won,
Gee but we've had lots of fun.

Chorus
We're '26 the class that stood the test
Old A. H. S. for you we've done our best
We've give you our spirit
Our loyalty too,
We've got the kind of pep
That will carry us through

In scholarship, believe me, we're right there
We play our games both fair and square
And when we see the dear old blue and gold go by
That's the time we all will yell
Rah! rah! rickety! ki,
A. H. S. we know we're leaving you,
And gee we're sorry that we're thru.

Last Will and Testament

We the Senior Class of 1926 Alhambra High School, of Alhambra, State of California of the age of four years, and being of sound and disposing mind and memory and not acting under duress, menace, fraud, or undue influence of any person whatever, do make, publish and declare this our last WILL AND TESTAMENT in the manner following, that is to say:

First: WE GIVE AND BEQUEATH to the faculty, the creatures that ordered us about and made us repeat lessons, all the valuable manuscripts that we chanced to leave behind. They are at liberty to give out the startling information contained therein, but we caution them to be careful in passing on such knowledge, since the other classes are of younger and more tender fabric. Consequently they are wholly unable to grasp such learned facts readily. Also we urge the faculty to give those lower classmen who cause the slightest disturbance, slips of a pink or yellow discoloration.

Secondly: WE GIVE AND BEQUEATH to the Juniors an amazing array of schemes, tricks, and devices to elude the tiresome classrooms and the noisy study-hall. They are also welcome to all offices and positions which we discarded for those of college and life. However, those who failed to attend school on the memorable Senior Ditch Day will receive nothing but the condemnation of good men.

Thirdly: WE GIVE AND BEQUEATH TO THE SOPHOMORES, who are still a trifle unripe and immature, the privilege of initiating the freshmen into our institution of learning. They are also entitled to the numerous gum wads, pencil stubs, and the bits of paper which we purposely left for them. The Sophomores will do well to emulate and keep their eyes on the example set by the class of '26.

Fourthly: WE GIVE AND BEQUEATH to the Freshman the unique celluar ramifications of our cerebral hemispheres, which have enabled us to com-comprehend the complex singularities of pragmatic thescphy, together with our unparalled iconoclastic conceptions of theoretic autonomy. With these virtues and a 100% student body membership, which we made four years ago, the present peagreeners will have an excellent start.

To the Athletic department we bequeath our utmost desire for a new athletic field and an array of splinterless bleachers. South Pasadena is inherently given her defeat in basketball. To the debating department we give the worthy example set by Bob Sharp, President of our Class.

To Miss Ruth Seaver and the dramatics department we leave inscribed in the Log the memories of a "Successful Calamity," our Junior Play and the "Romantic Age" our Senior Production.

We give and bequeath to Major G. C. Elsey, U. S. Army, retired, for no reason at all, our slang, our faults and our eccentricities.

Lastly, We hereby nominate and appoint Mr. Wood, Senior Class Adviser, as the executor of this our last Will and Testament and hereby revoke all former Wills by us made.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 29th day of April, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-six.

B12 Senior Class of W'27

CLASS OFFICERS

President	Robert Floyd
Secretary	Caroline Valle
Treasurer	Milton Ponitz

The Winter Class of '27 entered the Senior class full of pep and enthusiasm. The class has endeavored and throughout its course in Alhambra High School has upheld the traditions and promoted those high principles for which A. H. S. has been noted. I feel assured in saying that the class has carried out very successfully its highest intentions.

The members of this class have and are participating in all forms of school activity; which include athletics, scholarship, and student activities at large.

During this semester we have selected our rings, our sweaters and our class colors, which are orange and Harding blue.

Much of the credit of the Senior B's is due to the cooperation and help of our class advisors, Miss Irwin, while Junior A's, and Mrs. Clements, while Senior B's.

Robert Floyd, President.

CLASS OFFICERS

President	Don Wilson
Vice-President	Jack Pageler
Secretary	Mae Austin
Treasurer	Harold Weetman
Yell leader	Robert Cleckner

About two hundred and fifty, who were successful in completing their sophomore year, now form one of the largest and peppiest junior classes that Alhambra High School has ever had. We were not only successful in continuing our own brilliant records and the records of the preceding junior classes, but in establishing new records for the future junior class to live up to. Our records were not in athletics alone, but also in scholarship.

Half of the varsity football letters went to juniors; two of the basketball letters also went to juniors; practically all of the track men were juniors. To prove our superiority we won the inter-class track meet by a large majority. Seven out of the eleven players on this year's championship baseball team are juniors. In the first round of the inter-class debates our team defeated the seniors. This gives us the privilege of meeting the sophomores for the school championship. Three members of the school debate squad are juniors.

The junior play, "Who is the Man," was both a financial and dramatic success, and the junior-senior dance also promises to go "over big."

Much of our class' success has been due to the untiring efforts of our class advisor, Mr. McAlpine.

CLASS OFFICERS

President	Bill Sevey
Vice-President	Herman Whitham
Secretary-Treasurer	LaRue Duncan

The Junior Class is the main-stay of the school, and the Junior Class of W'28 has certainly lived up to the reputation that a Junior class should have.

We were represented well in every line, whether it be scholastics or athletics.

To begin with we worked very hard in the Student Body Membership Drive and received 100 per cent.

We gave a skating party which was enjoyed by all and was said to have been the best party ever put on by A. H. S.

In football we should be commended for our class spirit, even though we lost our games with the Sophomores and the Seniors.

We won the championship of A. H. S. in track, and had a number af men on the High School Track Team, something which we are very proud of.

During the year the Seniors challenged the Juniors to a yelling contest. The Seniors won by a close margin.

In debating, dramatics, and other school activities, the Juniors made a wonderful showing, especially in debating, when we won over the Seniors.

The last and biggest event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom., which was a huge success.

In conclusion, we wish to express our appreciation to our Class Advisors, Miss Irwin and Mr. McAlpine.

Bill Sevey, Class President.

A10 Sophomore Class

Two years ago when we came in we were the largest Freshman class the school had ever known and immediately became citizens of Alhambra High School by getting 100% Student Body membership. That alone is a record to be proud of, but we didn't stop at that. We went out to see what laurels we could win in athletics and other school activities. Due to the excellent coaching of "Bo" Wilson we were able to turn out the best freshman baseball team Alhambra Hi ever had. Our debating record is well worth remembering, as two of the members of the freshman class won the interclass championship of the school, having defeated the juniors in the final debate.

Our freshman year soon slipped away and it was not long until we were again entering Alhambra Hi, this time under the title of sophomores. Our number was somewhat decreased, but this did not in the least dampen the spirit of the class.

Opening the year with a bang we joined the seniors in the paper drive and came out victorious over the frosh and juniors. Filled with the desire to do things we worked hard for the P. T. A. and sold more tickets to the Dads' Night Program than any other class, and also for the San Carlos Grand Opera.

In Athletics we stood out as one of the foremost classes in the school. We were represented in football, baseball, basketball, track and gym club, having several of our members on the first team in every sport. We ran the juniors a very close second in the interclass track meet and came out victorious over all the other classes in football.

This year as in our freshman year we held a fine record in debate, one of our members being on the school team, besides taking first place in the Oratorical Contest on the Constitution of the United States.

Although our social functions were rather few those that we did have were very well attended. During our second semester a skating party was held at Walhalla, which was one of the most lively affairs of the year in the estimation of all who attended. A sophomore dance was also held.

In conclusion, the sophomore class wishes to take this opportunity to thank Miss Kemper, our class advisor, who has so ably guided us through our little disturbances and troubles and without whose help many of the things which we undertook could not have been accomplished.

The achievements of the B10's have been most remarkable this year. Every member of the class has been working in unity, to make the best class A. H. S. has ever had.

In athletics we have achieved distinction. In the inter-class track meet the sophs placed second. It was quite remarkable, considering the number of varsity men the juniors and seniors had. Next we tied for first in the inter-class football. May 17, the sophomores play the seniors for the inter-class championship.

The sophs also proved themselves superior in scholastic standings. Defeating the freshmen in an inter-class debate, the sophs will meet the juniors in the future for the championship of the school.

The sophs gave a skating party which was very successful. In the near future there will be a sophomore dance, which will be a success, we are sure.

In conclusion, the sophomore class wishes to express appreciation to our class advisor, Mr. Miller, for the way he has worked with the class. It was mainly through his efforts to help the class that we achieved such distinction.

As a rule when freshmen enter the school they are "green," and are very childish, but there is an exception to every rule, and the exception to this rule is the freshman class that entered in September, 1925. The morning of the opening of school we took our initiation like regular sports, and after it was over we really wanted more. From the moment we came to the moment we leave, we will be good citizens of dear old A. H. S.

When we entered we at once began to work for our hundred per cent Student Body membership, and barely missed it. We had a debate with the sophs and give them credit for beating us. Because of our lack of training and experience, we were defeated by the seniors and sophs in football. Many of our boys went out for basketball, baseball, and track; some of them made the teams. We are now planning a "Skating Hop," which will be on the thirty-first of May.

We want to thank Mr. Green for all that he has done to help us. Without him, we would be groping around in the dark trying to find ourselves.

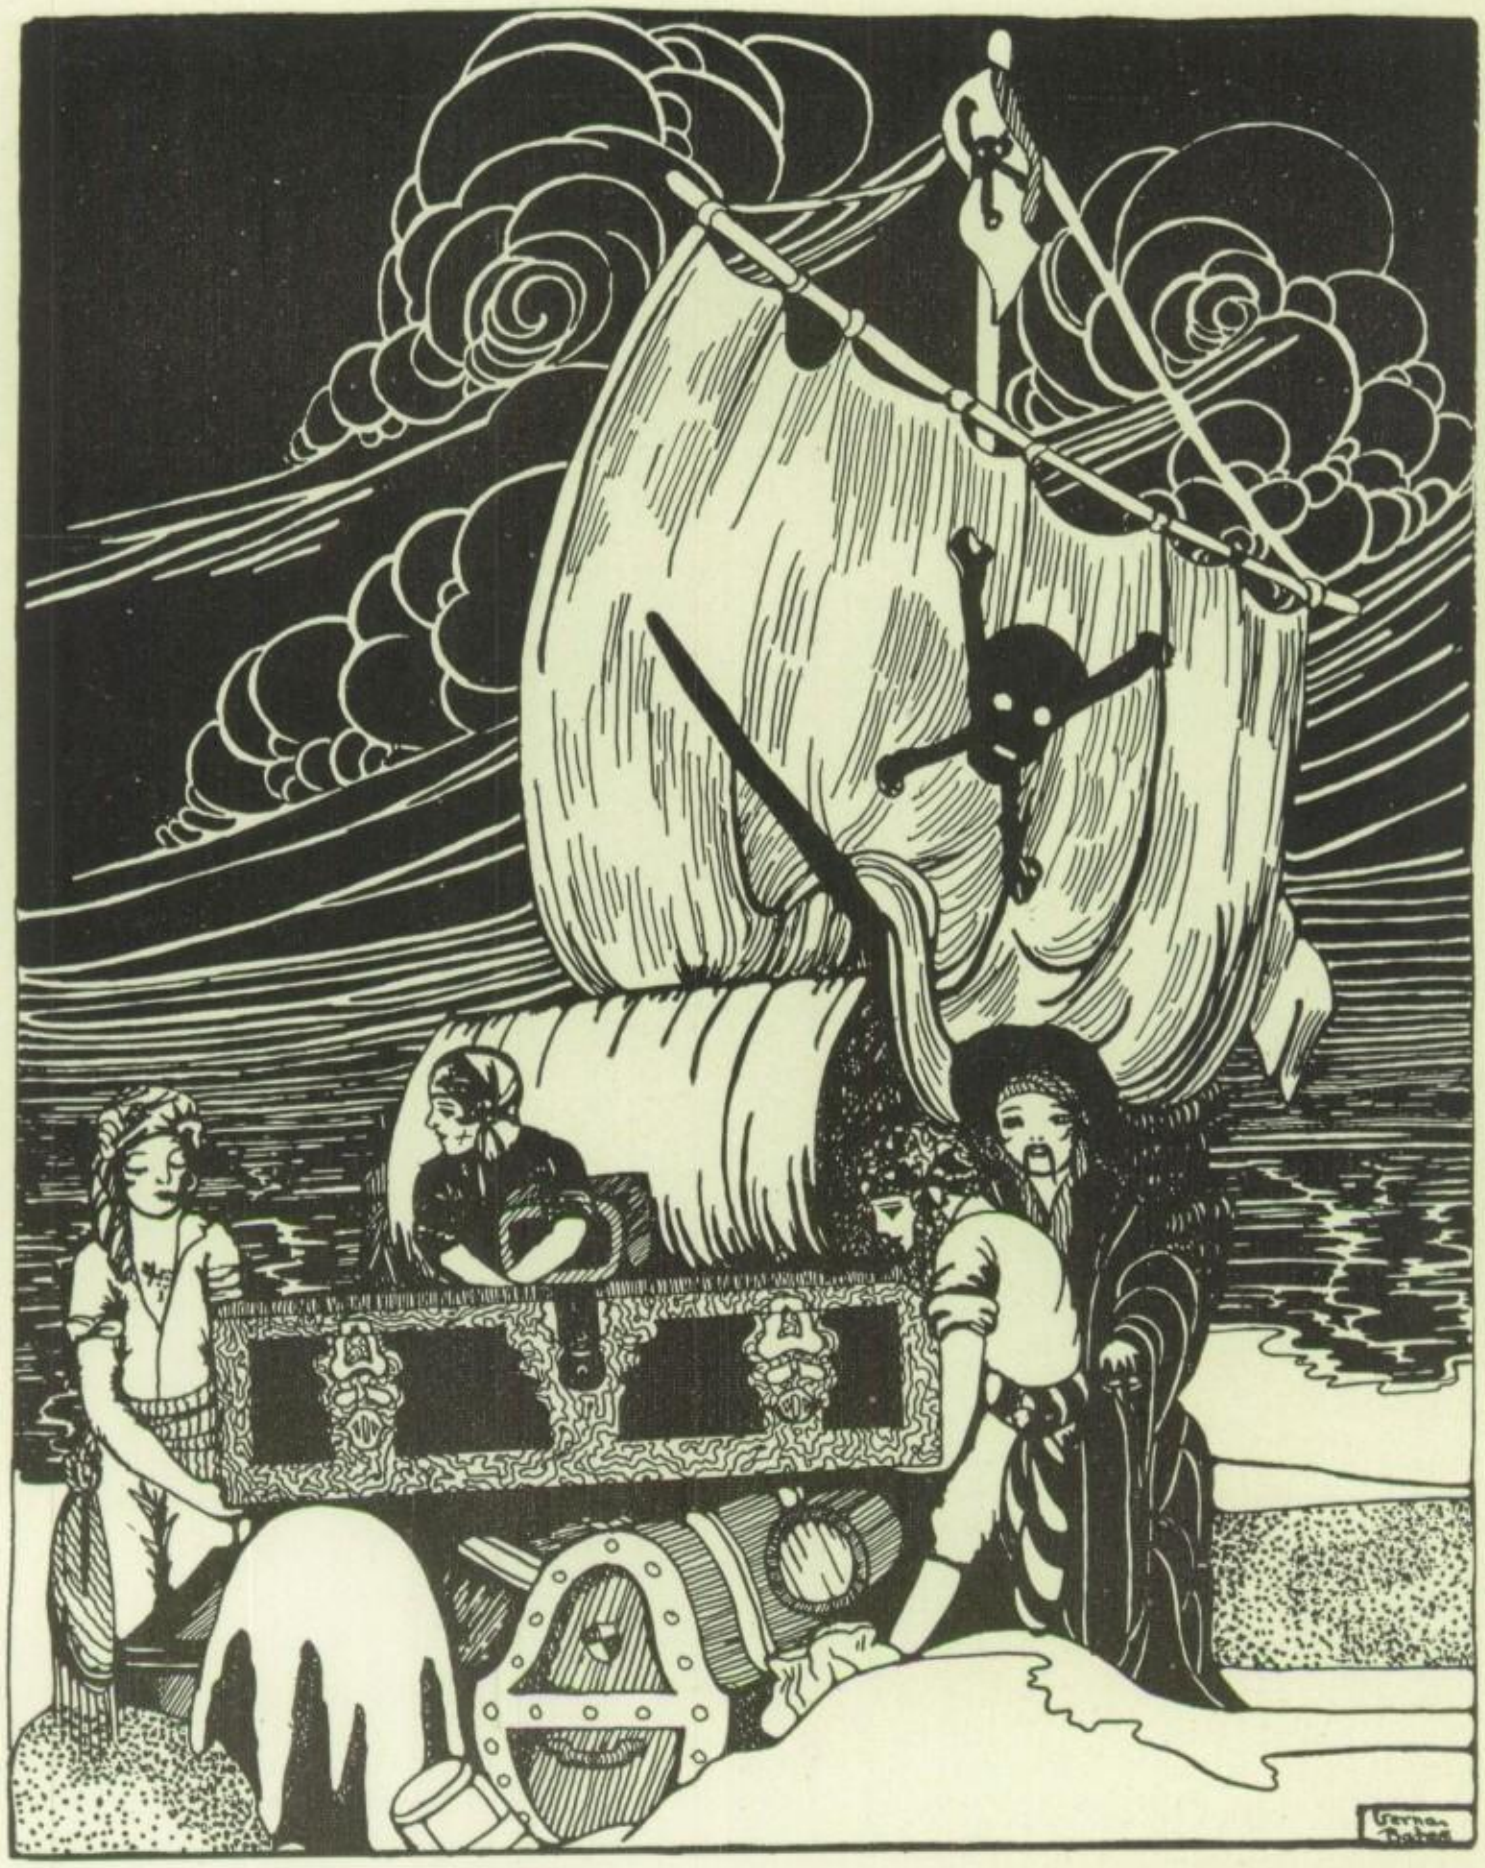
The Freshmen B classes are always considered to be babies and stupid in school life. The other classes say that we have shown great spirit in school activities.

We came into the school with a 100% Student Body membership and were just narrowly crowded out of being first to get this by the seniors. The class seems very proud of this achievement.

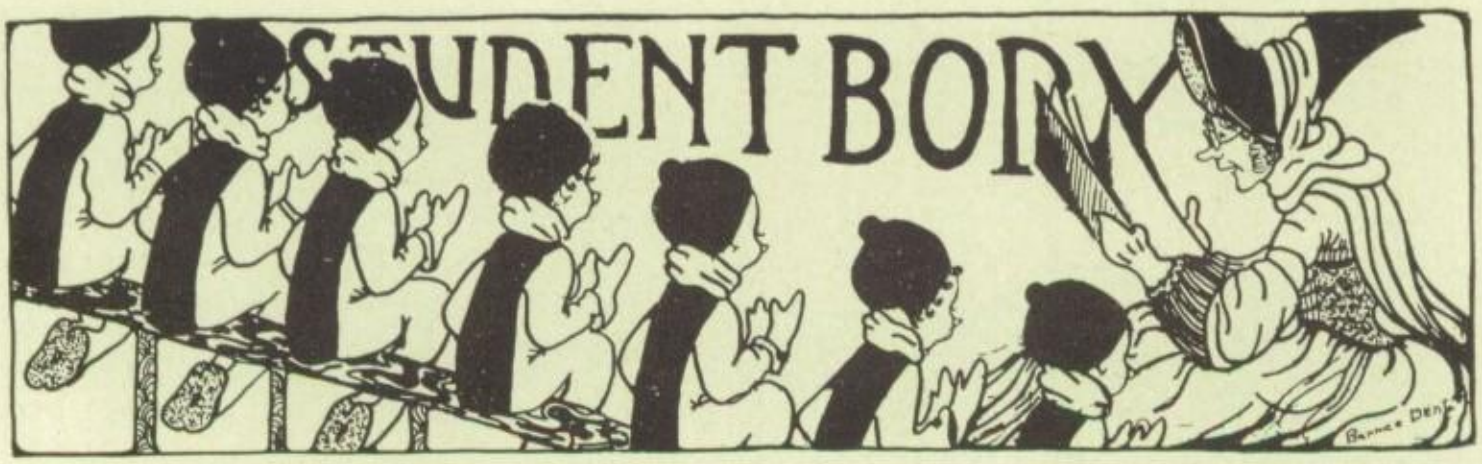
We soon entered into athletics, for when the inter-class track meet came around we were well represented in this. We also entered into the inter-class football games, although in this we were not so successful as in the track meet.

Miss Ione Zellhoefer our class advisor, has been behind us in every way. To her we owe much of our success.

We are looking forward to better and more wonderful things. Someday we all hope to fill the place of the seniors.



ACTIVITIES



The Spirit of A. H. S.

Looking back over the events of the year 1925-26, we come to the realization that A. H. S. has spent one of the most successful years of her "career." It seems that every year the Commission and the Student Body as a whole feel that that year was just a little bit better and that they accomplished just a little bit more than in the preceeding one. What better sign of growth and progress could we have?

It might seem that we were not as successful in our athletic endeavors during the closing year as we have been in preceeding ones. True, we were not as successful if you consider only the number of games and pennants won. At the beginning of the year A. H. S. found herself no longer in the small and comparatively weak Central League, but in the strongest high school athletics league in Southern California. This accounts for the fact that our teams did not meet with the success that they had been accustomed to. However, in spite of the stiffer competition our Varsity and 110-lb. basketball teams won a majority of their games and the lightweights tied for the championship, but because of technicality it was awarded to Long Beach. Because of the fact that we had new coaches and that it takes a year or two to build up a team in these sports, our football and track teams did not fare so well. Our tennis squad, as per usual, has met with continued success. Our baseball men have been playing like professionals and have an excellent chance for the league championship and high hopes for the Southern California title. All things considered, we have had a most successful year in athletics.

It has taken us a year to get used to the "fast" company and we not only expect, but know we will do even better next year.

All other Student Body Activities have experienced similar success. Our financial department has been put on a firm and business-like basis. Because of the fact and the success of the Student-store we will end the year with a substantial surplus. The Spotlight has been a success, having the largest circulation of any year. The Student-Council, established several years ago, was put into operation and proved a big help to both Commission and the councilmen.

All of these achievements have been made possible through the cooperation of the Student-Body, the Faculty, and the Commission. Because of this cooperation we have progressed during the year 1925-26.

Students, keep on progressing and in doing so, keep alive "The Spirit of A. H. S."

The Spotlight

As everyone knows an organized group of people should have some sort of a paper or journal to keep record of their doings and to announce coming events.

The Alhambra High School Student Body has as it's paper, the "Spotlight." It is a weekly paper and exceedingly interesting in it's accounts of past and coming events.

The first of the year the editor was Richard Short. This last semester there has been several changes in the staff as well as the new editor, Gwendolyn MacMillen. Gwendolyn has proven that she is very capable as a newspaper editor and much of the success of the Spotlight is due to her.

The faculty advisor to whom much success is due is Mr. Donad P. McAlpine.

Art

For several years the art department has grown steadily in size, but no year has been more marked in its growth than the one just completed. Miss Vaughan, Mr. Powell, and Mrs. Swan have established an organized the art work into a general course of study.

The classes now cover a large field. There are three types for those who take freshman art: A course for the home economics students, and those desiring just general Art. After this design, there are courses in costume design, homemaking, and household craft.

In the crafts, many both useful and beautiful things have been made from metal, leather, and clay.

The commercial class has handled all the illustrative advertising for school activities, besides the general work in pen and ink illustration.

The stage craft department, quite newly organized, has accomplished a great deal this year. In the study of stage costuming, French dolls were made. Crafts for the stage were taken up, including wool embroidery, batik, and tye-dye. The art of make-up has been studied, and, as the big problem of the year, model sets in little theatres have been constructed.

Near the end of the year an exhibit was given, which proved to be a very unusual and charming affair. It was held as a social tea on the stage, with an exhibition of the entire year's work.

An appreciation is due to Mr. Powell, the art advisor, who has so helpfully co-operated in the Art department's work in the annual.

The Alhambra High School Students Co-operative Store

The store was established October 6, 1924, under the management of Mr. Hyle as faculty advisor. The store started without one cent to its credit, and before many months it was making money. Before the year was over, the store had payed some of the largest bills, and had a capital of $1,200.

This year Charles Hollister was appointed manager of the store, but due to illness, he was forced to resign. Westley Montgomery, the present manager has done very well.

The first of this year the old Student Body office was taken over by the store, enlarging it to twice the size of last year.

Girls' League Executive Board

The purpose of the Girls' League is to encourage higher ideals of courtesy, honor and loyalty and to help in all school actviities. It also co-operates in community work.

The Girls' League Executive Board for this year consists of: President, Lillian Hollister; Vice-President, Christine Peters; Secretary, Marie Halet; Treasurer, Ruth Blair.

Every year the League gives a "Welcome" party to the B9 and new girls, so that they may become acquainted and feel at home.

It is a custom of the League to do charity work. This year at Christmas, the school as a whole placed gifts before an altar in assembly on the Friday preceeding vacation. After assembly, they were turned over to the Girls' League. Many extra necessary things were purchased from the League treasury. During Christmas vacation, the officers and Miss Blount came and arranged the provisions and gifts in large boxes. They were then delivered to over twenty needy families, thus bringing joy and happiness to them.

The League office was more completely furnished by the addition of a chair, pictures, book-shelves and curtains, which the League bought. Curtains were also hung in the Social Room.

Under the supervision of the Executive Board, pom-poms were made for the Student Body. A candy sale was given just before the Christmas holidays. The money was used for our Christmas Charity work.

The general business of the League is cared for at the monthly meetings of all the girls.

The delegates who attended the Federation meeting of the Girls' Leagues at Polytechnic High School, Los Angeles, in November, were Lillian Hollister and Dorothy Harmon with our Vice-Principal Miss Blount. Marie Halet and Ruth Blair attended the Spring convention at Santa Monica.

This has been one of the most successful years in the League's history. The Executive Board hopes that the next year's Board will enjoy its work and that it will faithfully and successfully carry out the work of the League.

Marie Halet, Secretary.

The Advisory Board of the Girls' League

The Advisory Board consists of the elected class representatives and the chairmen of the standing committee. This years board has been composed of: Florence Post, Louise Blayney, Margaret Munson, Dorothy Harmon, Grace Stephens, Rosamond Routt, Mary Patten, and Betty Heim. The chairmen of the standing committee are: Social Chairman, Corinne Richardson; Welfare Chairman, Helen Goe; Athletic Chairman, Bernice Enslow. The Board meets every other week with the Executive Board and plans are made so that each representative can attend to the work in her class or committee.

Each class committee is responsible for one program a year at the monthly meetings of the girls. These have consisted of musical and dancing numbers, pantomimes, or plays.

The Advisory Board with one Executive member constitutes the Uniform Board, with the A12 representative acting as chairman. Monitors in the various class rooms, under its supervision, report uniform cases to the Board. These monitors help in collecting dues as well as attending to C. R. work.

The Social Committee has charge of the big Girls' League Party and cares for official ushers for the opening of each semester.

The Social Committee with the Executive Board, introduced the "Hostess" custom this year for new girls. The help given made the first day at school a pleasant one.

The Athletic Committee helps to develop school spirit by wrapping goal posts for games and in other ways as well. It has always been a custom of the League to entertain the boys of one of the teams. This year the Athletic Committee with the Executive Board and Miss Blount entertained the members of the Baseball team with a delightful dinner.

One of the biggest events of the year is the Girls' League Party. The Social Committee and Executive Board feel that the party this year with its splendid program, good refreshments, and dance was the most successful one ever given. Everyone had a good time.

The members of the Advisory Board feels that this year has been a happy and successful one and extend their good wishes to those who will have charge of the work next year.

Florence Post, A12 Representative.

Debating

Although Alhambra's debate teams have not been as uniformly successful in winning victories this year, as in some years, they have, nevertheless, maintained a standard of work which the school may take pride.

The Moor speakers have lost several contests this year, but not once have all three of the judges believed the opposing team to be superior in arguments and delivery. In every debate in which Alhambra has been a contestant at least one judge has awarded A. H. S. the decision as being the better.

In the Southern California Debate League the Moors were unable to achiev any great distinction this year.

However, in the new Coast Debate League, pitted against some of the Southland's strongest schools, Alhambra has been able to reach the finals, and has very high hopes of winning the championship.

This year it has been the privilege of Alhambra to be represented by some of the best speakers she has ever claimed.

Foremost among these are Robert Sharp and Frederick Dilg, both gifted orators who combine polished ease on the rostrum with ability to search out and present strongly their convincing arguments. Both have shown in many debates their ready wit and keenness in exposing weaknesses in the arguments of their opponents.

Others who have done unusually good work in interscholastic debates are: Harvey Harkness, Gwendolyn MacMillen, Milton Morris, John Miller, and Richard Dwiggins.

Alhambra's reputation for excellently coached teams has been maintained this year by the unstinted efforts of Miss Veda R. Walker and Mr. William Green, the Moor debate coaches, who deserve unlimited credit for the accomplishment of the debaters they have trained. They have been very successful in developing to the fullest extent the abilities of Alhambra's speakers.

Coast Debate League

LONG BEACH vs. ALHAMBRA

Alhambra's first venture into the newly-formed Coast Debate League was a forensic contest with Long Beach High. Upholding the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved, that Col. Mitchell's plan for a unified air service should be adopted," Gwendolyn MacMillen, Richard Keller, and Robert Sharp journeyed to the Jackrabbit stronghold.

The contest was very close, with much clever speaking displayed on both sides. In spite of Alhambra's greatest efforts, Long Beach won by the close score of two judges' decisions to one.

As well as marking Alhambra's debut in the Coast League, this was the first debate participated in by the Moors in which three speakers represented each side.

This contest was held December 8, 1925.

PASADENA vs. ALHAMBRA

Pasadena High sent two speakers over to the Alhambra High auditorium to compete in the second round of the Coast League schedule, on March 12, 1926. The question discussed was: "Resolved that the people of the United States are behind the Eighteenth Amendment." Alhambra upheld the negative, being represented by two of her finest speakers, Robert Sharp and Frederick Dilg. Pasadena was also represented by an unusually able team, John Ackley and Robert McClintock.

This debate has been considered by many debate fans, the finest ever staged in Alhambra's auditorium.

The judges unanimously decided in favor of Alhambra. This victory reflected unusual credit on both Alhambra speakers.

Coast League Championship

LONG BEACH vs. ALHAMBRA

Due to the necessity of going to press it is impossible to chronicle the result of this debate, the most interesting and important contest of the debate season.

On May 28, Alhambra is to meet Long Beach at Alhambra in the deciding contest for the 1925-6 Coast League Debate Championship.

The question to discussed is: "Resolved that Young America's freedom of thought and conduct is detrimental to society."

Alhambra has the affirmative side and Long Beach the negative. The Alhambra speakers are to be Robert Sharp and Frederick Dilg. They have been working hard in anticipation of the struggle and are being ably coached by Miss Veda R. Walker, head debate coach of A. H. S.

The Moors have great expectations of winning this contest and with it the first championship of the Coast League

Southern California Debate League

COMPTON vs. ALHAMBRA

In the first round of the Southern California League schedule, Compton met Alhambra. This contest was held November 21, 1925 at Alhambra. Helen Kendall and Frederick Dilg, both experienced forensic veterans, upheld the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that the Swing-Johnson Bill should be adopted," for the Moors.

Although the Alhambra speakers seemed to have the advantage in poise and adaptability, the judges were convinced that the arguments of the Compton representatives were the stronger, and awarded them the decision, two to one.

INGLEWOOD vs. ALHAMBRA

At Inglewood, February 19, Alhambra participated in the second round of debates in the Southern California League. The question was : "Resolved that the United States should adopt a responsible cabinet system of government." The speakers for Alhambra were Harvey Harkness and Milton Morris. In presenting the negative arguments they made a profound impression upon the audience. It seemed to supporters of both sides that the Moors had won a clean-cut victory. Two of the three judges, however, cast their ballots in favor of the affirmative, Inglewood.

MANUAL ARTS vs. ALHAMBRA

The final Southern California League debate in which Alhambra participated was held at Manual Arts High in Los Angeles on April 9, 1926. The question discussed was: "Resolved, that Democracy is a failure." Alhambra upheld the negative, represented by John E. Miller and Richard Dwiggins. Although John Miller was possibly the outstanding speaker of the evening, Manual Arts succeeded in securing two of the judges decisions to one for Alhambra.

The Algia Club

The Algia Club is composed of girls who have won letters in the girls' athletics.

To win a letter a girl must be proficient in basketball, baseball, volly-ball, tennis, and gymnasium work. The letters are won after the required numbers of points to win the letter is made.

This year the girls had sweaters and pins.

The girls received their letters in a regular assembly in the same order as the boys letters are given out.

A party was given by the Club to it's members at Hildur Richardson's home in San Gabriel.

The officers this year were:

Faculty Advisor	Miss Brownson
President	Bernice Enslow
Secretary	Charlotte Wiest
Treasurer	Verna Jackson

The "Hi" "Y"

The Hi "Y" is made up of High School boys and is an organization that extends all over the country. It is a wonderful organization and sets high standards for the young man of today.

The slogan of the Hi "Y" is "Clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, clean scholarship, and contageous Christian Character."

Every other Monday night the boys have a supper in the High School Cafeteria after which they have a speaker and entertainment.

This year they gave a very interesting assembly for the student body. A member of the group attended the Older Boys Conference this year and received many ideas.

It is hoped that every year the club will grow larger.

The Stage Crew

We have an exceedingly good stage crew at Alhambra High School, and they should receive much praise for the splendid work they have done under Mrs. Swan's teaching.

This year when the San Carlos Opera Company came to the High School, our stage crew did all of the stage work for the opera. One of the Union Leaders came out to watch the work behind scenes, and he afterward complimented Mrs. Swan on having about the finest high school crew in Southern California.

Besides the boys, Mrs. Swan has two class of girls that she is teaching a little of the art of stage work.

The crew consists of:

Clarice Menefee
Stanley Wilson
Morey Daw
Haynes Keenan
Harold Harmann
Gordon Coombs
Kenneth Weisel
Floyd Lewis
Gerald Bayler
Joe Sodolski

Light and Shadow

The Light and Shadow club is a drama club, which was organized for the purpose of putting forth better plays to the students of A. H. S.

The Club has been under the leadership of Mr. Ritter who with the help of Mrs. Swan and her stage crew have made this year a great success.

The plays that have been given this year are:

November 25—"Suppressed Desires"— by Cook and Glaspell.

This play was given a second time for the Teachers Institute on December 14th and 15th.

The Scholarship Society

Emerson truly says, "A Man is relieved and gay when he has put his heart into his work and done his best, but what he has said or done otherwise shall give him no peace." These words express the spirit of the Scholarship Society in our high school. Concentrated effort is the essence of the requirements for membership.

Alhambra Chapter Twenty-one was well represented at the State Gonvention at Santa Barbara in December, and throughout the year has been up to the minute in it's activity. Our past success only creates higher ambition to accomplish greater things in the future.

Fredrick Dilg, Secretary.

The officers for last semester were:

Safford Nye	President
Paul Dougan	Vice-President
J. William Miller	Secretary-Treasurer

Second semester officers were:

Hildur Richardson	President
Richard Keller	Vice-President
J. William Miller	Secretary-Treasurer
Miss Alice McDill	Faculty Adviser

The Latin Club

The organization of this club follows that of the Roman state. It's presiding officers, two in number are therefore called consuls. Frederick Dilg and Thais Belt were elected to these positions. The Roman aediles were the commissions of community property and community activities. The program committee bears the name of aediles. Ruth Walter, Betty Clayton, David Anderson, Winifred Craven, Rada Dougan and Gladys Gentry.

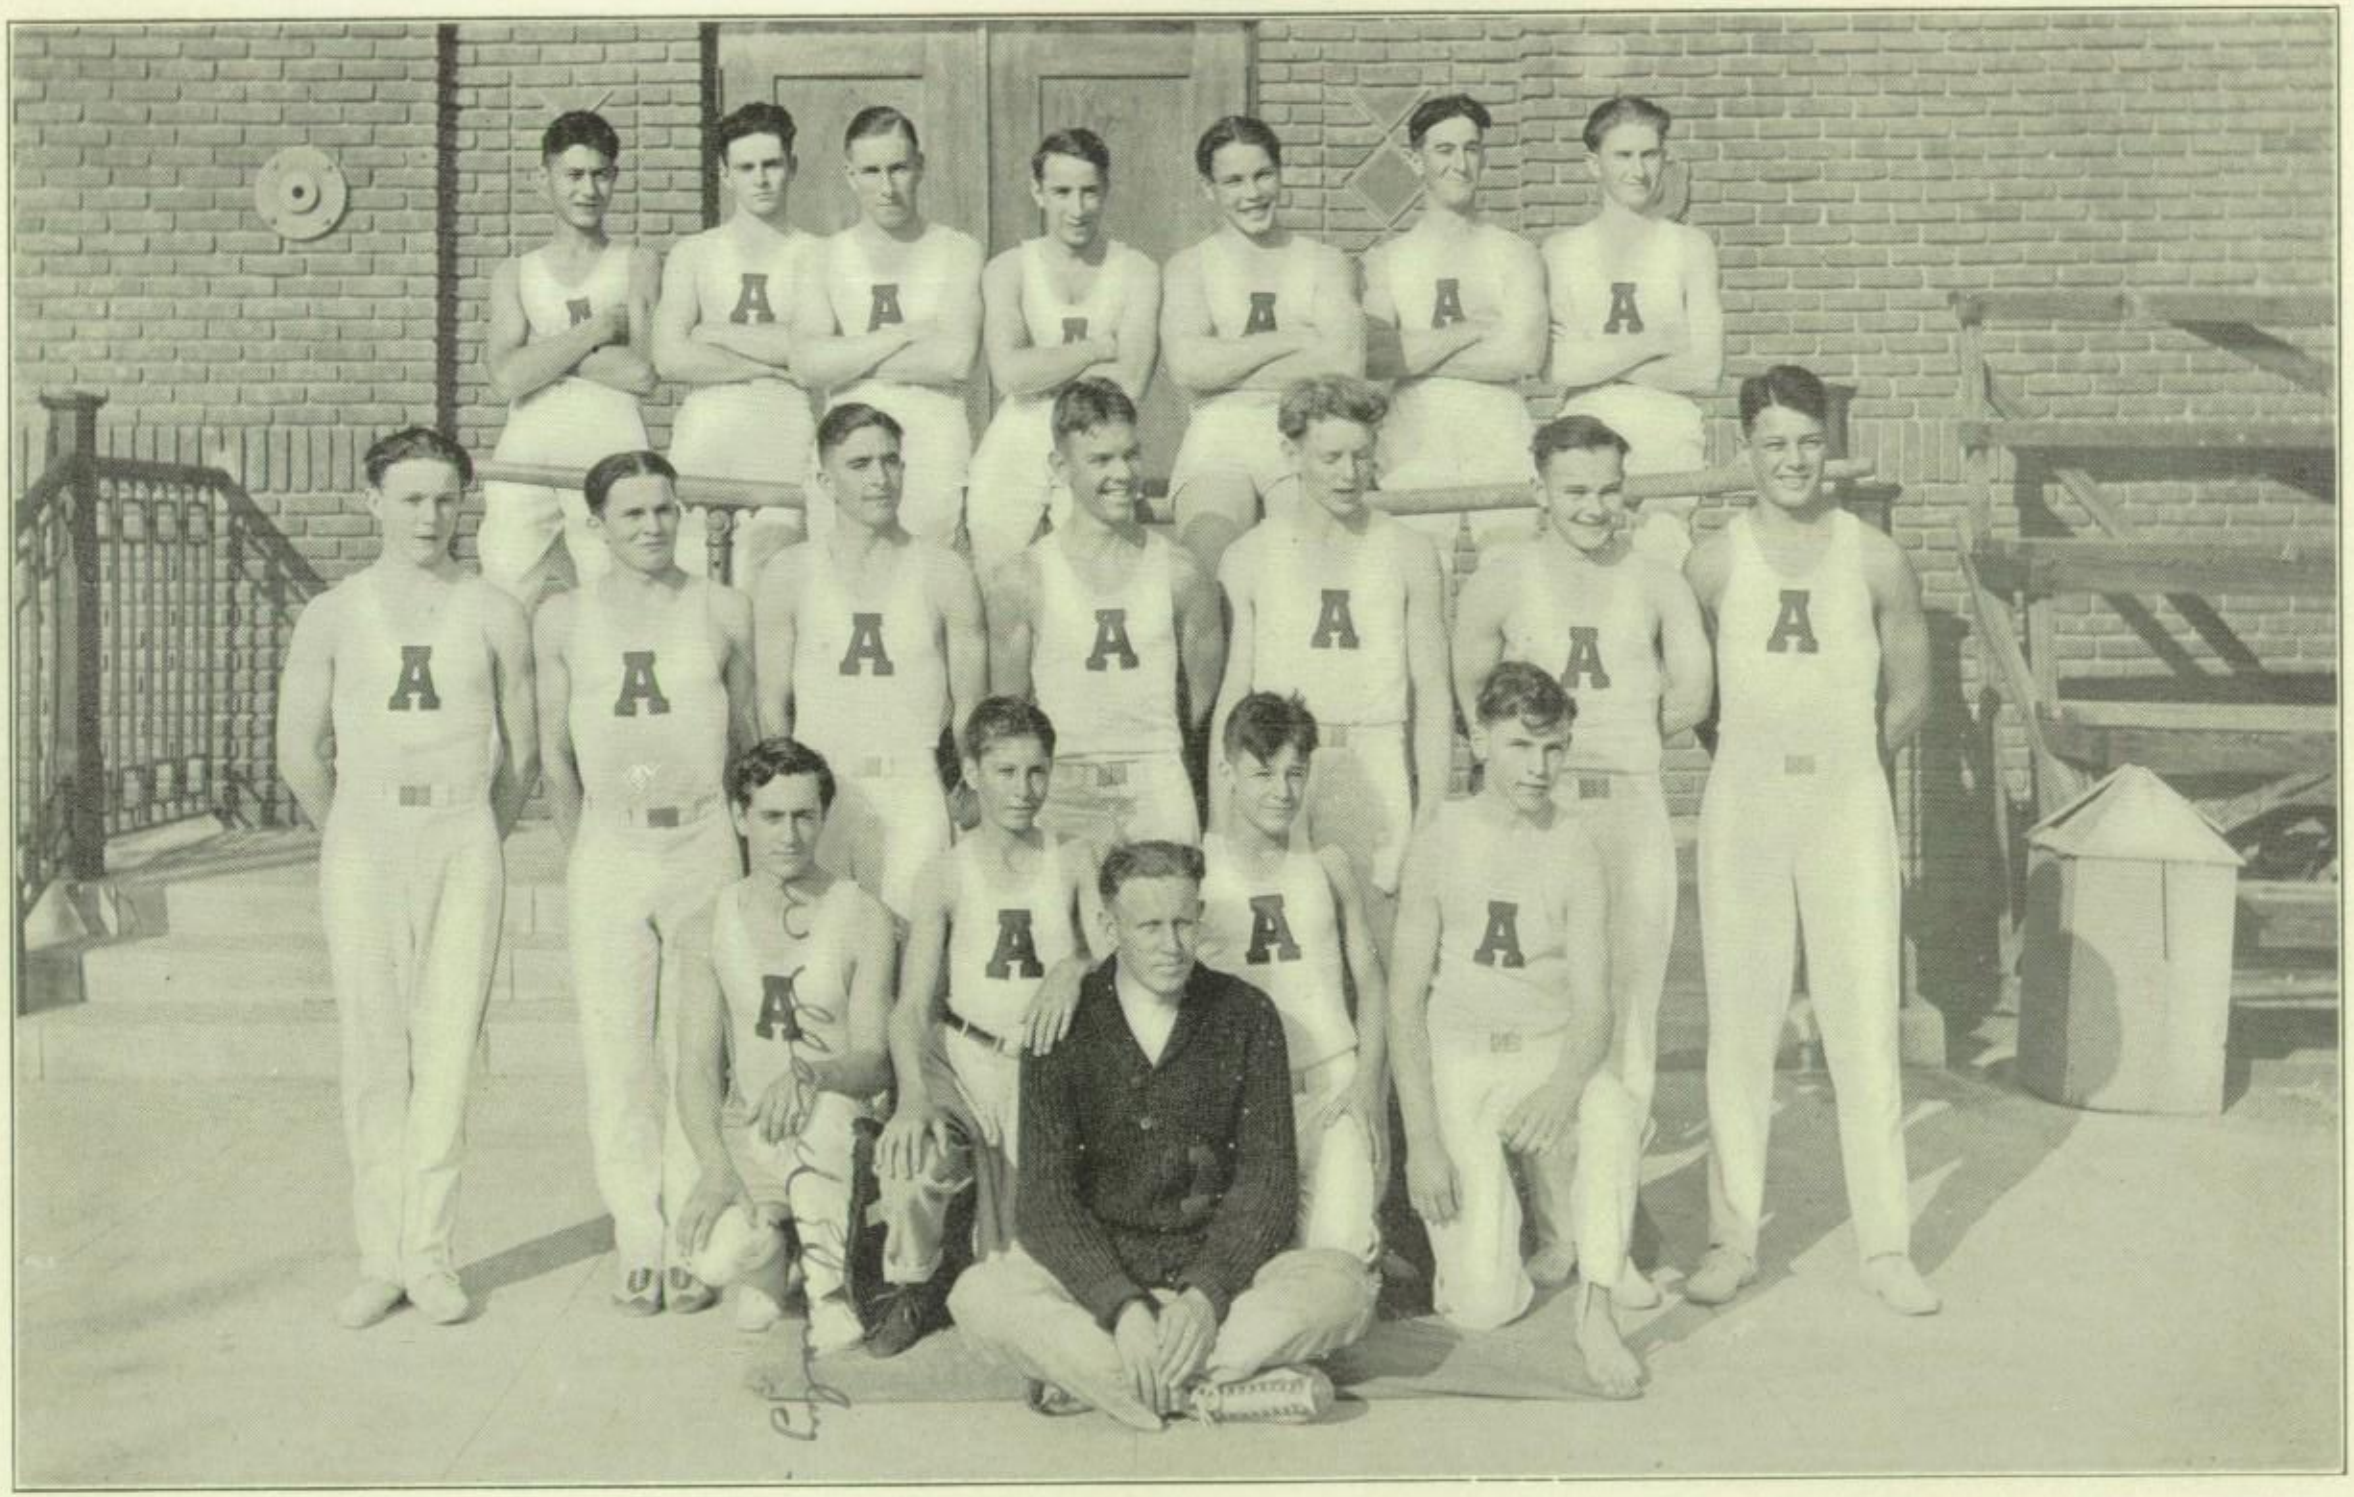
Charles Cooyell . . . . . Treasurer
Richard Keller . . . . . Secretary

The purpose of the meetings which are held in C. R. period once a month is to study Roman life and customs and to sing Latin songs.

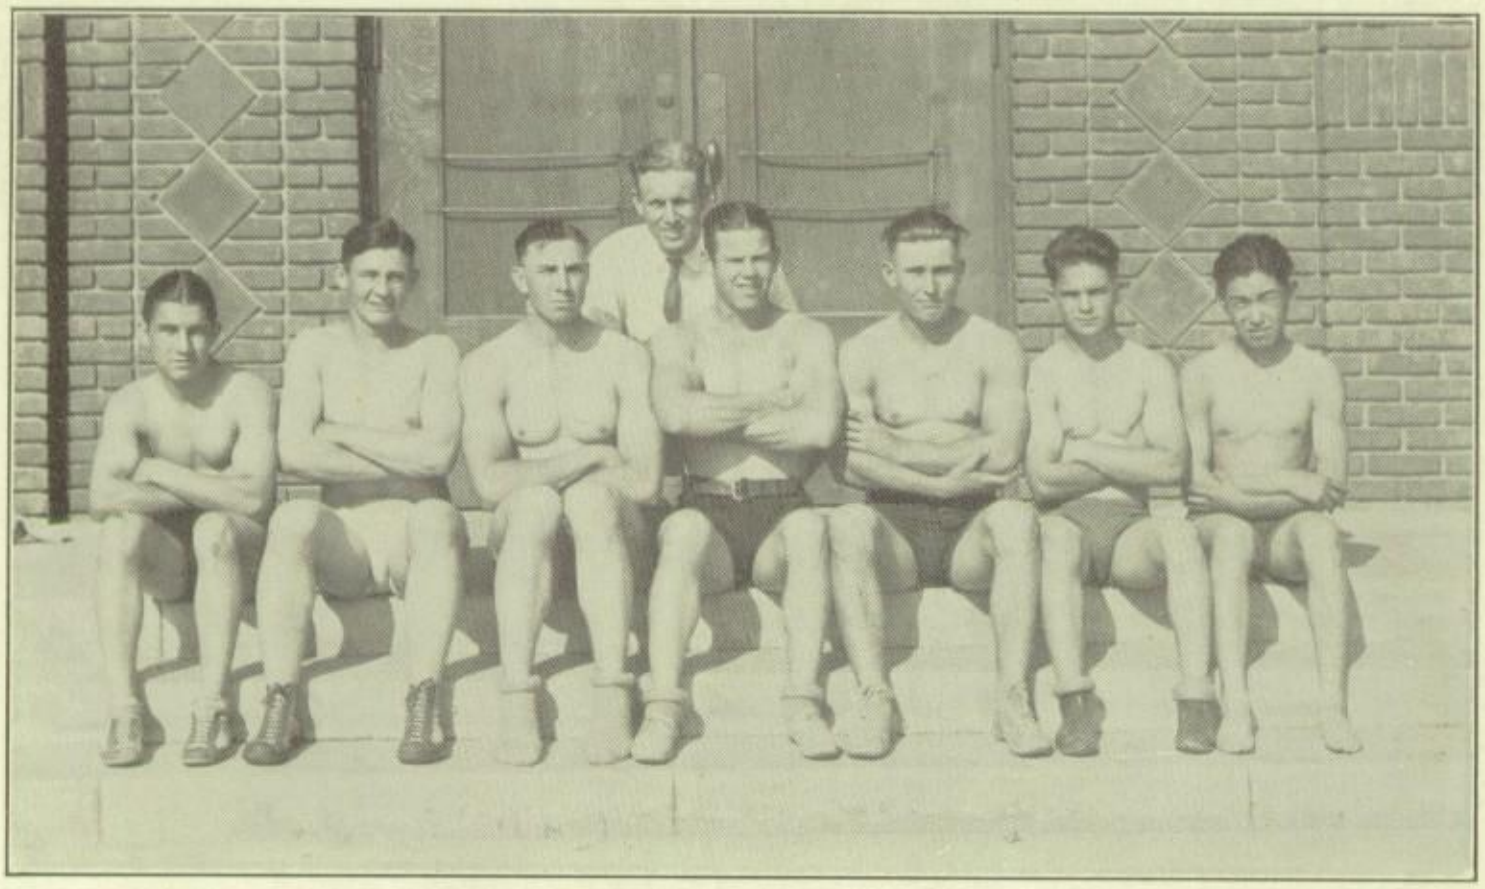
Throughout the year the S. P. I. R. has held very interesting meetings. On one occasion the club enjoyed a Roman banquet sewed in Roman style.

The immense success of the Latin Club for the past year years is due to a great extent to the continual efforts of the Latin teachers, Miss McDill and Mrs. Farmer.

Richard Keller, Secretary.



GYM CLUB



Wrestling Team

Gym Club

This is the second year that A. H. S. has had a gym club. When this fact is considered, the Moors may be said to have had a most successful season because they were only defeated by two of the strongest teams in Southern California. One of these, Manual Arts High School gym team, is generally considered to have the best squad in this section of the state.

Coach Wilson deserves a great deal of credit for so ably coaching the Alhambra team. In the short time it has been in existence "Bo" has developed some brilliant gymnasts. In all of the meets Harvey Harkness, high point man of the team, could be relied upon for one or more first places.

Near the end of the school year the gym club had its second annual circus, which was bigger and better than before. The show was well attended and was consequently a financial success.

LITERARY

Ivan

by Nadine Booe

"My big son is going to school today, and he will learn the lesson and meet the American boys and girls." The "big son's" mother laughed gayly at the little face across the breakfast table.

"And the pretty teacher with the pink cheeks and laughing eyes," Ivan happily finished. His own eyes were dancing. He and his mother had come from their own Russia to wonderful America when Ivan's lovable, dark-eyed father had died. Ivan's mother was English. She had lived long in Russia with her father, an English diplomat, then in her own home. Now Ivan was going to a public school in America. It had been a selected private school in Russia, but here in America things were different.

The mother smiled again at the small boy whom she had just called her big son. "It's time to go, Ivan. Get your cap."

She was still smiling when she waved goodbye to the slender little figure as it trudged down the walk, but in her heart was anxiety. She knew how ruthless children are apt to be. How would they greet the eager sensitive boy with his dark hair and eyes that so readily proclaimed him not American? It would not matter that his father was of the nobility of Russia. With children all are equal. There is no discrimination. They make their own classes.

The teacher, whom Ivan and his mother had met before, smiled at him as the class filed into the room. Ivan, his heart aglow, face and eyes beaming, took his assigned seat. He was happy, happy, so marvelously happy. Oh, if he only could have his violin now—it would sing, sing, sing with joy.

"Boys and girls," began Teacher. "We are going to have a new friend with us. Ivan Dalovitch, who has come from 'way across the ocean, is coming here to school."

She did not need to point Ivan out—all eyes had been turned on him long ago. At the back of the room sat Red Kellog and his staunch and true "gang."

"Humph! Dago—Russ—" whisperingly sneered Red.

"Dago—Russ!" loyally echoed the gang.

Then later when the teacher called on Ivan to recite.

"Ivan," mimiced Red. And then with sudden brilliance. "Ivan Offelitch—Ivan Offelitch!"

Recess came. Ivan trooped out with his classmates. He was rather disconcerted, though, when he was left standing alone as the children formed their special groups. The boys had all gathered in a corner, and were laughing gleefully at Red's newest plan. Ivan hesitantly started toward them. Then as if his movement was a signal for which they had been waiting, the boys whirled and ran toward him. Ivan went expectantly to meet them, but his happy soul chilled with terror as the horrible din broke around him. They boys had formed a taunting, dancing ring, and as beasts of prey were yelling—"Ivan Offelitch—Ivan Offelitch—Dago Big Red Russian!" Some of the little girls had poined the melee, but one, with flashing blue eyes and tossing curls, pushed through the crowd and faced the ring leader. Her breath was coming in gasps, and her face was nearly as white as Ivan's.

"Red Kellog! Let him alone—do you hear? Let him alone and don't you ever speak to me again." The children paused. Here was a new phase to the situation.

"But Jeanne—" protested Red.

"Go 'way! Go 'way! Don't ever let me see you. And if you ever tease Ivan again, I'll—I'll tell the principal." Agast at the awful threat the group dissolved.

After that Ivan was never bothered by the entire crowd, but no group took him to its heart. Whenever he passed them he could hear them say—"Sissy boy—sissy, tied to a girls' apron strings, sissy boy—can't talk for himself—Jeanne's little Dago baby."

All the sunshine and song were gone for Ivan. Though not long after the novelty wore off and he was not teased so much, the fact remained that he was an outsider. These gloomy days were often brightened by the little secrets he shared with Teacher, who realized a little of his lonliness, and by Jeanne, who was always his defender and friend. As she was a leader among the girls as Red was among the boys, her words carried weight and no one dared criticize her for her newly made friendship.

"Mother Dear" knew only of Ivan's bright days. He kept the hurts to himself. It would never do to trouble her. Only the music of his violin told a story of its own. Although he tried to play gay, happy tunes—a minor bit would creep in, and if he did not know his mother was listening, the melody would become so sad and lone that it wrung her heart.

Then came the day of Ivan's fight. Red insolently and insultingly spoke of Ivan's mother. With dark eyes snapping the boy flew into Red with such rightous anger, that the tawny head was soon bowed to the dust, its owner completely vanquished. The victor, however, did not escape without trophies of battle, and the black eye hed to be explained to mother. That night the violin was triumphant. A battle had been fought and won. Neither his mother's honor or his own was impaired and— Jeanne had seen it all.

Soon the grammar school days sped by, and Ivan entered High School. Had he only known it, boys and girls of that age are not so heartless. They would have taken him gladly into their work and play. But remembering his former experience, he kept to himself.

The boy made fine grades in all studies, and, when the call came for the boys to turn out for athletics, Ivan turned out. As he was of slender build, swift and light on his feet, he became invaluable on the lightweight football team. The school went wild over him. The boys wanted to make friends, and the girls were charmed by the handsome winning boy. But Ivan, for the most part, drew only closer to himself.

At last, after months and months of anxious training and longing he made the "Big Team" in his Senior year. The night before the one grand game of the season, the Coach called Ivan to him, and, putting his arm across the lad's shoulder, said, "Boy—we're counting on you tomorrow." That was all, but Ivan's heart sang with joy, and that night the violin again sang a song of triumph, joy—and of gladness unfulfilled.

The next afternoon the bleachers were filled with excited students. The Green and Tan of Ivan's school paced out into the field. The arrogant Orange and Black of the opposing team equally matched them. The situation was becoming tense even before the game had started. A rousing cheer arose from the bleachers. And during that cheer it was Red who saw a bit of paper pass from Ivan's hand to the Captain of the Orange and Black. He stared in astonishment—What could it mean? He punched the boy next to him. "Say! Did you see that?"

"What?"

Red explained.

"Oh!" Easily. "It wasn't anything. Ivan's white." But all the same a queer persisting doubt remained in his mind.

The whistle blew and the teams lined up—the ball went sailing into the air. The game was on. It was so tense that on the bleachers silence reigned. The play stayed very nearly in the center of the field. Then slowly but surely the Green and Tan was forced to yield. A whisper ran through the bleachers. The students had noticed something queer. They could not analize it until an agonized voice explained—"They've got onto our signals!"

It was then that an ominous, threatening something rippled through the Green and Tan section. "Ivan—bit white paper—might mean anything—but—looks queer—traitor—" The boys on the field fighting gallantly, and by a supreme effort held the score to "Zero" during the first half. But when they reappeared they seemed to sense the subtle, intangible feeling in the air, and they were forced back—back—back until a triumphant shout was raised in the Orange and Black section, and a groan from their despairing rivals. Touchdown! The teams lined up before the goal posts. Then it was the turn of the Orange and Black to groan for they had failed to convert. The score stood 6-0.

Again the battle began in the middle of the field, and again the Green and Tan boys were forced back. It seemed as if all was lost as the game neared the end. Then a Green and Tan figure separated from the rest. A swift lithe form fairly flew down the field. The Orange and Black flew to stop him. They nearly succeeded as he stumbled—In that moment the very air seemed to stop breathing. The pace was regained and as the goal was reached a cry arose from both sides alike. The students went wild—caps were thrown in the air—girls hugged each other—boys madly pounded each other—and the frenzy broke out anew as the Green and Tan converted just as the last gun was fired. They won by one point.

Then suddenly all was still again. They realized who had made that touchdown. It was Ivan. The crowd filed off of the field strangely silent. The big game was won, but the winning was in the mind of hardly a student. Something had happened that took away nearly all thought of the score.

Jeanne avoided Ivan that night, and he did not walk home with her as usual. He could not understand it.

The next morning all this had disappeared. The students their own gay selves as they tumultuously took their places in assembly. It was their gala day. They were exuberant and could not contain their feelings. They had won their big game. The Orange and Black had met defeat. At the end of the assembly the heroes of the day marched up to receive their "letters." Here the students had an outlet for their feelings. Yell after yell arose, boy after boy was cheered, until it seemed the roof could not stand the pressure. Everyone was leaning forward in his seat—excited—joyous. Then the principal said, smiling, "We have saved the best to the last—Ivan Dalovitch—" Ivan entered the stage with the room still ringing to the last yell. Then all became so still that even the echoes seemed awed and hushed. Not a sound broke the awful stillness. Ivan grew white and stood as if frozen to ice. Someone tittered in the audience, and from a golden haired girl their came a sob. The yell leader broke the spell by—"Now let's give—" But at the first word Ivan fled from the stage.

That night a faculty meeting was held to get at the truth of the matter. Red was brought in and hesitantly told what he had seen. Immediately the bubble was broken. The bit of paper was only an agreement between the coaches as to some formality. They had given it to Ivan to show to the captain of the opposing team.

But a boy's heart was very nearly broken that night. It was too much even for the precious violin to express. And a boy that night with his head buried deep in the pillow, sobbed long dry sobs. A mother prayed to her God.

The next day Ivan did not come to school, and during his absence a special assembly was called. A stern principal explained the harshness of rushing headlong into conclusions. And the following day a very serious and contrite student body greeted Ivan as their hero. He knew he would never be lonely again.

As he turned down the leafy avenue to go home that evening—a little hand was slipped into his and he turned to see two blue eyes winking bravely to keep back the tears—"Ivan—I'm so sorry—and so glad."

That night out into the soft night air the violin wafted a song full of joy and life and love. Through it all ran a deep strong current that had never been there before. That night a dear little mother thanked her Heavenly Father that her boy had come through safely. The song rose out through the window—through the night, even hushing the carol of the birds—and who knows but perhaps it reached the heart of a girl—a girl whose eyes were still wet with tears—tears of happiness. The song of a boy's heart.

The Romantic Age

The Senior class of '26 presented The Romantic Age, a comedy in three acts by Milne, on March 18th and 19th.

The play was preceded by a beautiful, atmospheric prologue under the direction of Irene McLean Swan.

The romantic Melesande was played by Elizabeth Girard who made a very lovely heroine. The dashing hero, Gervase, who was the realization of Melisande's dreams, was played by Phil Mills. In contrast with the romantic Melisande is matter of fact Jane, a girl of the twentieth century. The part was cleverly portrayed by Sybil Tyler. Then there was the erratic Bobby, who knew he was in love but was not sure with whom till the last. Alex Crampton very ably took this part.

Gwendolyn McMillen was cast for the part of Mrs. Knowles, Melisande's mother, and furnished the comedy element so much enjoyed. Mr. Knowles was played by Thomas Graham.

The parts of Ern, Gentleman Susan and the petite maid, Alice, were all well done.

The play was a great success due to Miss Ruth Seavers excellent direction and the cooperation of the cast. Not enough could be said of the support given to the cast and Miss Seaver by Mrs. Swan.

Mary Knowles	Gwendolyn McMillan
Melisande	Elizabeth Girard

Music

The work of the Music Department of Alhambra High School for the year 1925-26 has progressed in the usual manner under the able leadership and influence of Miss Georgia E. Shropshire, head of the department, as well as Music Supervisor for the Alhambra schools. As in previous years, the programs of the Wednesday Treats have been enjoyed by the student body, as well as by the townspeople. These programs, varied and exceedingly entertaining and instructive, have been presented throughout the year as follows:

Oct. 7—Hazel Sanders—Soprano.
Dallas Reeves Boyd—Flutist.
Edna Lillian Taylor—Pianist.
Oct. 21—Sol Cohen—Violinist and Composer.
Dec. 2—Pickford-Fairbanks Studio Quartette.
Jan. 20—U. S. C. Mens' Glee Club.
Mar. 3—Apolo Male Quartette.
Mar. 17—Jerome Shafer—Impersonator and entertainer.

Realizing the value of music in the curriculum, Miss Shropshire has spared no effort to secure for Alhambra the best. With the assistance of Mrs. Clements, Mrs. Beebe, Mrs. Curtis, and Mr. Ulmer, classes in harmony, chorus, sight singing, music appreciation, violin, piano, wind instruments, and history of music have been conducted. From the harmony class taught by Miss Shropshire comes the creative work. In the classes of chorus, sight singing, violin, piano and instruction in the wind instruments productive work is stressed. As the third class of musicians is much in need of development, the classes in music appreciation and history of music help to make the students better listners and mor eappreciative of good music. From all these classes much talent has been developed under the influence of the instructors.

The Music Department, in trying to help the students express their musical abilities, provides the various musical organizations. Also believing that music can be an influence for good in a community, Miss Shropshire has made it possible for these students to give programs in the various clubs of the city.

The combined girls' and boys' glee clubs rendered Handel's "Messiah" for the Christmas program for the student body.

One very outstanding feature of this department this year is the production of "Il Trovatore" by the San Carlos Opera Company. Miss Shropshire, in conjunction with the P. T. A., was able to secure this splendid treat at special rates, thus mading it possible for the student body to hear and see a real grand opera in its own auditorium.

The Coast League

Due to the fact that Alhambra and Glendale had outgrown the Central League they were admitted to the Coast League, with Fullerton High dropping out to join a smaller league, the Orange Belt League.

In the seasons of 1924-1925 Alhambra won five out of seven championships in the old league with Glendale copping Varsity football and track.

In the new league are: Alhambra, Glendale, Long Beach, Whittier, Santa Ana, Pasadena, San Diego, and South Pasadena. The latter did not enter the league because she had outgrown the Central League, but merely because they could not get any spirit out of their activities if Alhambra was not in the same league to be the traditional rivals.

The competition in this Coast League is very great, stronger than A. H. S. has ever met with before, but the Moors fought hard and clean and gave all their opponents much to worry about before the games.

At the time this article went to press no teams of Alhambra High has won a championship as yet, although the prospects for the baseball team looks very good as they have defeated the strong San Diego nine in the first league encounter, the game being played at San Diego. The golf team looks good, but hardly is expected to take first place. The tennis team has second place cinched with a strong bid for first with San Diego. Coach Stoddards track team looks good for a first, second or third place in the league.

In all it seems that Alhambra has not won as many championships in the Coast League, but neither coaches, faculty or students would consent to go back into the Central League, now the San Gabriel Valley League.

Heavyweight Football

The Alhambra varsity football team was under the direction of Coach Church, who came back to Alhambra after several years absence. Although the Moors were not very successful, they entered each game to make a hard try for a victory and always played with a splendid spirit, willing to let the best man win, but only after a hard fight. The new arrival of Coach Church made it very hard for him to get on to Alhambra's customs in the first year. Coach Church worked hard on the team; and fair, clean fight was shown throughout the entire grid season. Coach Church has some wonderful material to work with in developing his next year's football team. Although several of the team, including Captain Phil Mills, Cliff Huber, Wilbur Ashby, Ed Tandy, and Milt Nehls will be lost through graduation, there will be some very fine material in the many Juniors, next years seniors. Much is expected of Capt. elect Otie Duncan, center, who played one of the best games of any of the players last season and is expected to be one of the finest centers in Southern California next year. The varsity was also greatly weakened by the absence of McKenzie, stellar end, who broke his collar bone in a practice game, but who will be one of the shining stars in the coming season. Harold Weetman, guard, looks like a very good man. Wing and Steer, last years ends will both be back to make the team a little better in the next grid season. Cecil Boulson and Taylor are both a pair of the finest linemen in this part of the country and much is expected from these two players. In all, the prospects look the brightest in years for the next team.

Those who fought for the Blue and Gold are: Captain Phil Mills, quarterback; Wilbur Ashby, halfback; Ed Tandy, tackle; Wing, end; Steer, end; McKenzie, end; Sevey, quarterback; Duncan, center; Penland, center; Weetman, guard; Melsheimer, guard; Wilson, halfback; Taylor, tackle; Kloek, fullback; Worthington, guard; Westmeyer, end; Buck Holtz, tackle; Johnson, guard; Nels, halfback, and Cliff Huber, who was awarded the cup as the most valuable man on the squad, presented by L. A. Palmer Co.

The scores of their games follow:

Alhambra	32	. . . . .	Roosevelt 12
Alhambra	0	. . . .	Huntington Park 6
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	Covina 27
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	San Diego 45
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	Long Beach 27
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	Whittier 9
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	Pasadena 32
Alhambra	0	. . . . .	Glendale 39

Lightweight Football

This year Coach Harold "Bo" Wilson's lightweight football team was very successful. Although they failed to cop the flag they came in a close second to San Diego, the league winners.

At the first of the season the prspects looked very good, but several fellows became ineligible and left Coach Wilson stranded. However, many new fellows came out for the team and it was mainly from this group that "Bo" selected his squad. Wilson will not be caught in the same predicament next year for he has broken in many players who look like stars for next year's team.

In the first league game the lightweights traveled to San Diego to meet the southerners. San Diego presented a heavy team and it seemed as if the game would be a complete walk-away, considering the Hilltoppers had the advantage of the home field. San Diego worked a queer type of kick off, hoping to baffle the Moors. They met with a fighting little team, however, and were forced to the limit. The Moor backfield, composed of Clapp, Capt. Bice, Mohler and Pure continually made end runs that swept the San Diegons off their feet. The Moors were the first to score, although they failed to convert. San Diego came back, scored and converted making the score 7-6 with five minutes to play till the half. The Moors received the kick-off and gave the ball to Les Newton on the first play for an "end around." Les was tackled with "unnecessary roughness" and received a broken leg. The spirits of the team immediately were broken also and San Diego had little trouble putting over two more touchdowns, ending the game at 21-6. San Diego, however, copped the Southern California honors, so it was no disgrace to come second to a team like them.

Those who played for A. H. S. are: Bice, Clapp, Pure, Nye, Dougan, McCullough, Talbert, Klein, Moore, Mohler, Newton, Vinning, Miller, Strong, Gordon, Farr, Coles.

WILLIAM KLOEK WARREN GALLEGHER VINCENT GAREHIME ROLAND BOYDEN FRED BICS

Heavyweight Basketball

This year basketball was not so successful as it has been in previous years. This fact is explained because of the much harded compitition in the Coast League.

Coach "Cloudy" Claude Browning's team developed well at the first of the season by copping numerous practice games. They traveled to San Diego to play the first game and brought home the bacon 18-12. On the same trip they stayed over and played Elsinore High School, which they also won by easy margin.

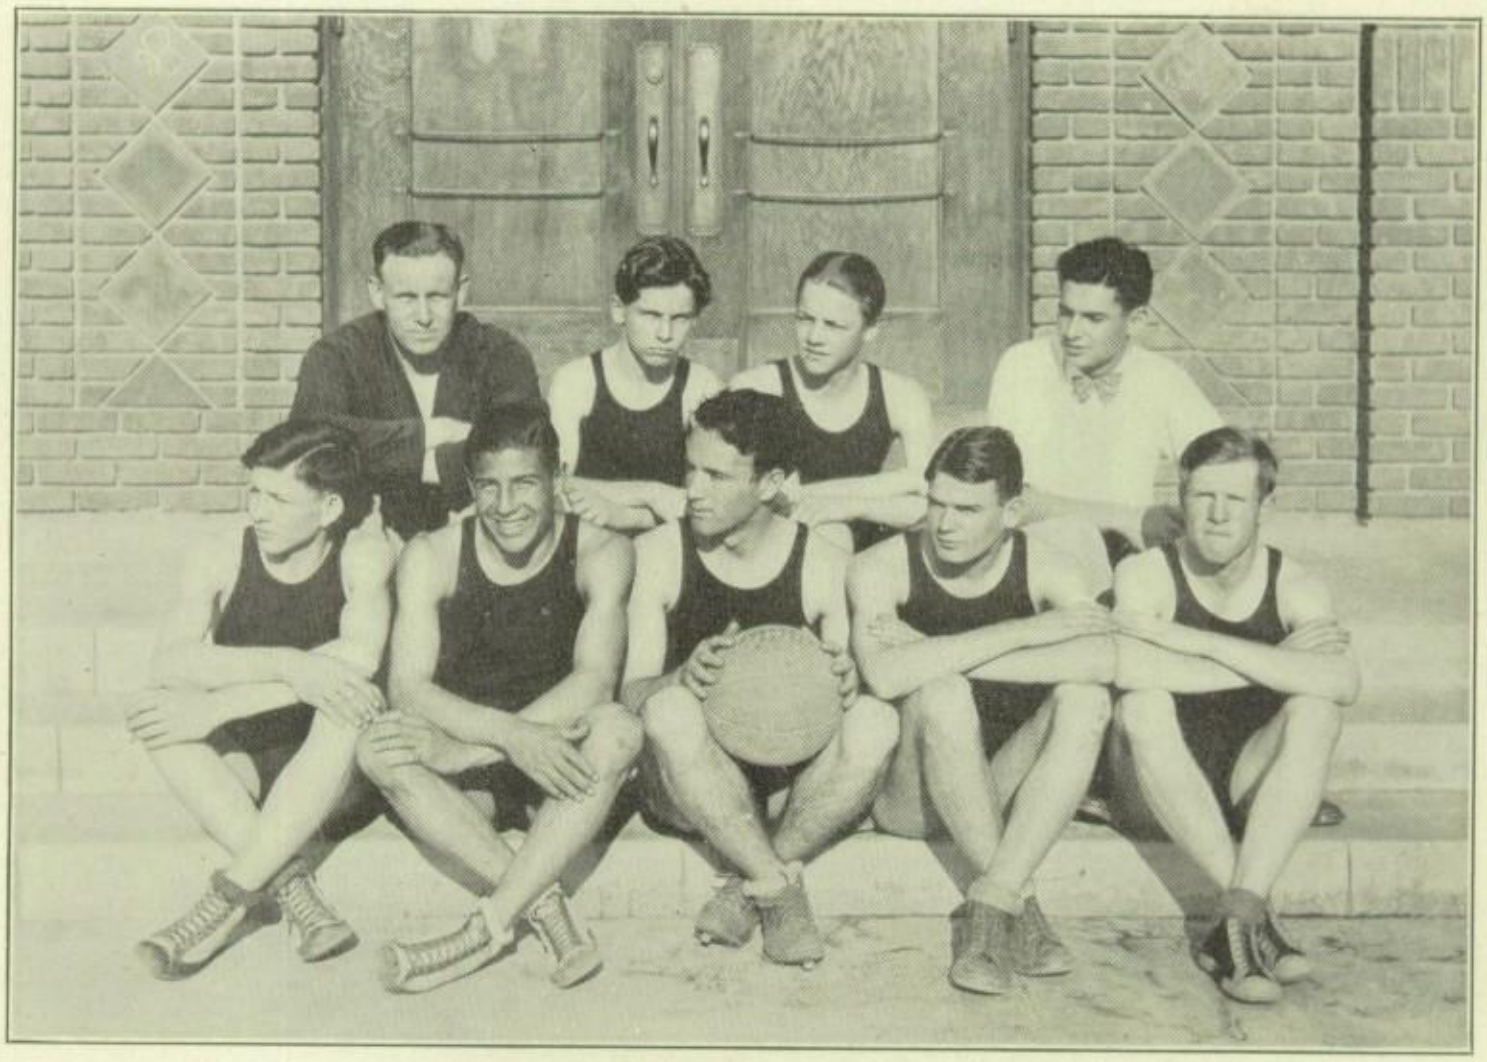
The Moors next received an upset at the hands of Long Beach, losing by a 18-5 score. The Moors then got in the habit of losing and were defeated by Whittier, league champs, 33-10, and Pasadena, 28-16. They then got a new habit and started winning streaks by copping the remainder of the games, beating Glendale, 16-15, Santa Ana, 13-4, and South Pasadena, 15-11.

The game with South Pasadena Tigers was the Moors big game and was played in the mammoth Alhambra Athletic Club gym. By the time the first game started there were about 1500 people in the gymn and by the time that the 110-lb. Moors had walloped the Kittens, 29-15, there were about 2200 people present. The gym was packed, people were standing along the side lines and walls. The Varsity then played a fast game and took the Tigers into camp 15-11.

This victory gave the Moors a league average of 555 points, and gave them undisputed fourth place. The Moors will lose many of their stars by graduation and Coach "Cloudy Claude" will have to dig up some more material for next year. The team will have Capt-elect Clements, Vincent Garehime, Gallegher and Matson back.

The Alhambra scores follow:

Alhambra	19	Citrus Union High	10
Alhambra	17	Alhambra A. C. Juniors	24
Alhambra	29	Elsinore High	15
Alhambra	18	San Diego High	12
Alhambra	5	Long Beach	18
Alhambra	10	Whittier High	33
Alhambra	16	Pasadena High	28
Alhambra	16	Glendale	15
Alhambra	13	Santa Ana High	4
Alhambra	15	South Pasadena	11
Alhambra	21	Alhambra Antlers	17
Alhambra	19	Pomona Frosh	11
Alhambra	20	Monrovia	12
Alhambra	35	Citrus J. C.	18



Lightweight Basketball

Coach "Bo" Wilson's 130-lb. basketball team showed up very well throughout the season though they had much hard luck to lose one game at Long Beach due to absence of players. This game cost them the title for they did not lose any more games nor did Long Beach, giving them a tie, but Long Beach getting the right to play off for Southern California Championship.

Coach Wilson had some of the best shots in the country on his little team in Captain Orville Mohler, Joe Pure, Nye and Gargon. Mohler and Gargon often rang up the total points of the games. Mata, Shuerman, Bayha and Blonde all played well throughout the year and the team should have done better with the raft of material on it, but the one game at Long Beach "hashed" the chances for them. Safford Nye graduated in mid-term and was greatly missed, his place being ably filled by Joe Pure, however. The entire team but Gargon and Pure will be back for next year, so "Bo" will have little trouble in getting organized next year if Coach Downing does not take any any over to the big team.

The Lightweight scores:

Alhambra	22	Lincoln	21
Alhambra	16	Long Beach	26
Alhambra	18	Whittier	12
Alhambra	16	Pasadena	14
Alhambra	21	Glendale	14
Alhambra	18	Santa Ana	14
Alhambra	23	South Pasadena	14

110 Pound Basketball

Coach Phil Mill led his fleaweight basketball team very successfully through the League series. They won 3 and lost 4.

The little Moors were inspired by Howard "Red" Tebo ,who kept up the spirit even when the score was greatly against them. Tebo was running guard and had an excellent eye for the hoop as well as guarding abilities.

Jimmy Woods wa sanother very good guard on getting the ball after it had hit the back board. Oliver Flood, the smallest player on the squad was a fast little forward and accounted for many A. H. S. points. "Mugs" Pease was also a good forward, being ineligible until the half, but being high point man after the half. He has two more years, as have Flood and Woods.

Coach Mills is to be congratulated by the student body for the fighting little team he turned out.

Track

This year Alhambra has a new track mentor, being Coach Stoddard, formerly of Pasadena High. As this goes to press before the season we cannot publish any results, just sit back and wait for the league meet held at Pasadena, April 17.

The team looks very good and should give the other schools a run for the title. The good thing about Alhambra's chances is that the other schools are strong in the same events and will "cut each others throats." The team showed up very well in the Colesium Relay Carnival, copping first place in the 4-man mile. Sturgeon, Parslow, Alkins and Boulson ran.

Dick and Phil Porslow, formerly of Huntington Park High, were great additions to the team in the sprints and high hurdles. Wallace Glidden quit school and this weakened the mile and 880 runs, although Glenn Sturgeon looks very good for a place in the League meet in the half mile event. Al Shields and Capt. Lee Phillips look good for the 100, negotiating the century in 10:00 and 10:02 respectively. Glenn can also do 11-6 in the pole vault, but this will hardly take a first in the League meet. Bill Kloek is good in the broad jump, Klein and Beck in the mile, and Hudson and Greiser in the weights. With this aggregation, Coach Stoddard hopes to win something in the track and field meets. The Moors have already taken into camp, Fullerton, 92-21 and Citrus High by a wider margin. They have lost to the strong Inglewood team and the Pasadena squad.

The best records for Alhambra men are:

880 yard run—Sturgeon, 2:02.
100 yard dash—Shields, D. Parslow, 10 flat.
Mile—Kline, 4:56.
440 yard dash—Adkins, Boulson, 53:4.
High jump—Mitchell, 5 feet 6 inches.
Broad jump—Kloek, 20 feet 6 inches.
220 yard dash—Shields, 22:2; Phillips 22:3.
Pole vault—Sturgeon, 11 feet 6 inches.
Discus—Taylor, 113 feet.
Shot—Hudson, 44 feet 5 inches.
220 low hurdles—D. Parslow, 26 flat.
12 high hurdles—Parslow, 15 feet 6 inches.

TRACK TEAM

Baseball Team

Varsity Baseball

By virtue of beating the best schools in the southland, Alhambra High School won her first baseball championship in the Coast League.

In the first play-off for the Southern California title the Moors beat Compton 7-3. The game was a wonderful demonstration of what support can do. After trailing for seven innings the Moor fans went frantic and rattled the opposing team so badly with their yelling that Alhambra won easily. Alhambra was matched with Santa Barbara for right to participate in the semi-finals when the annual went to press.

The success of the team is largely due to the coaching ability of Jess Ranker, coupled with the experience of the players.

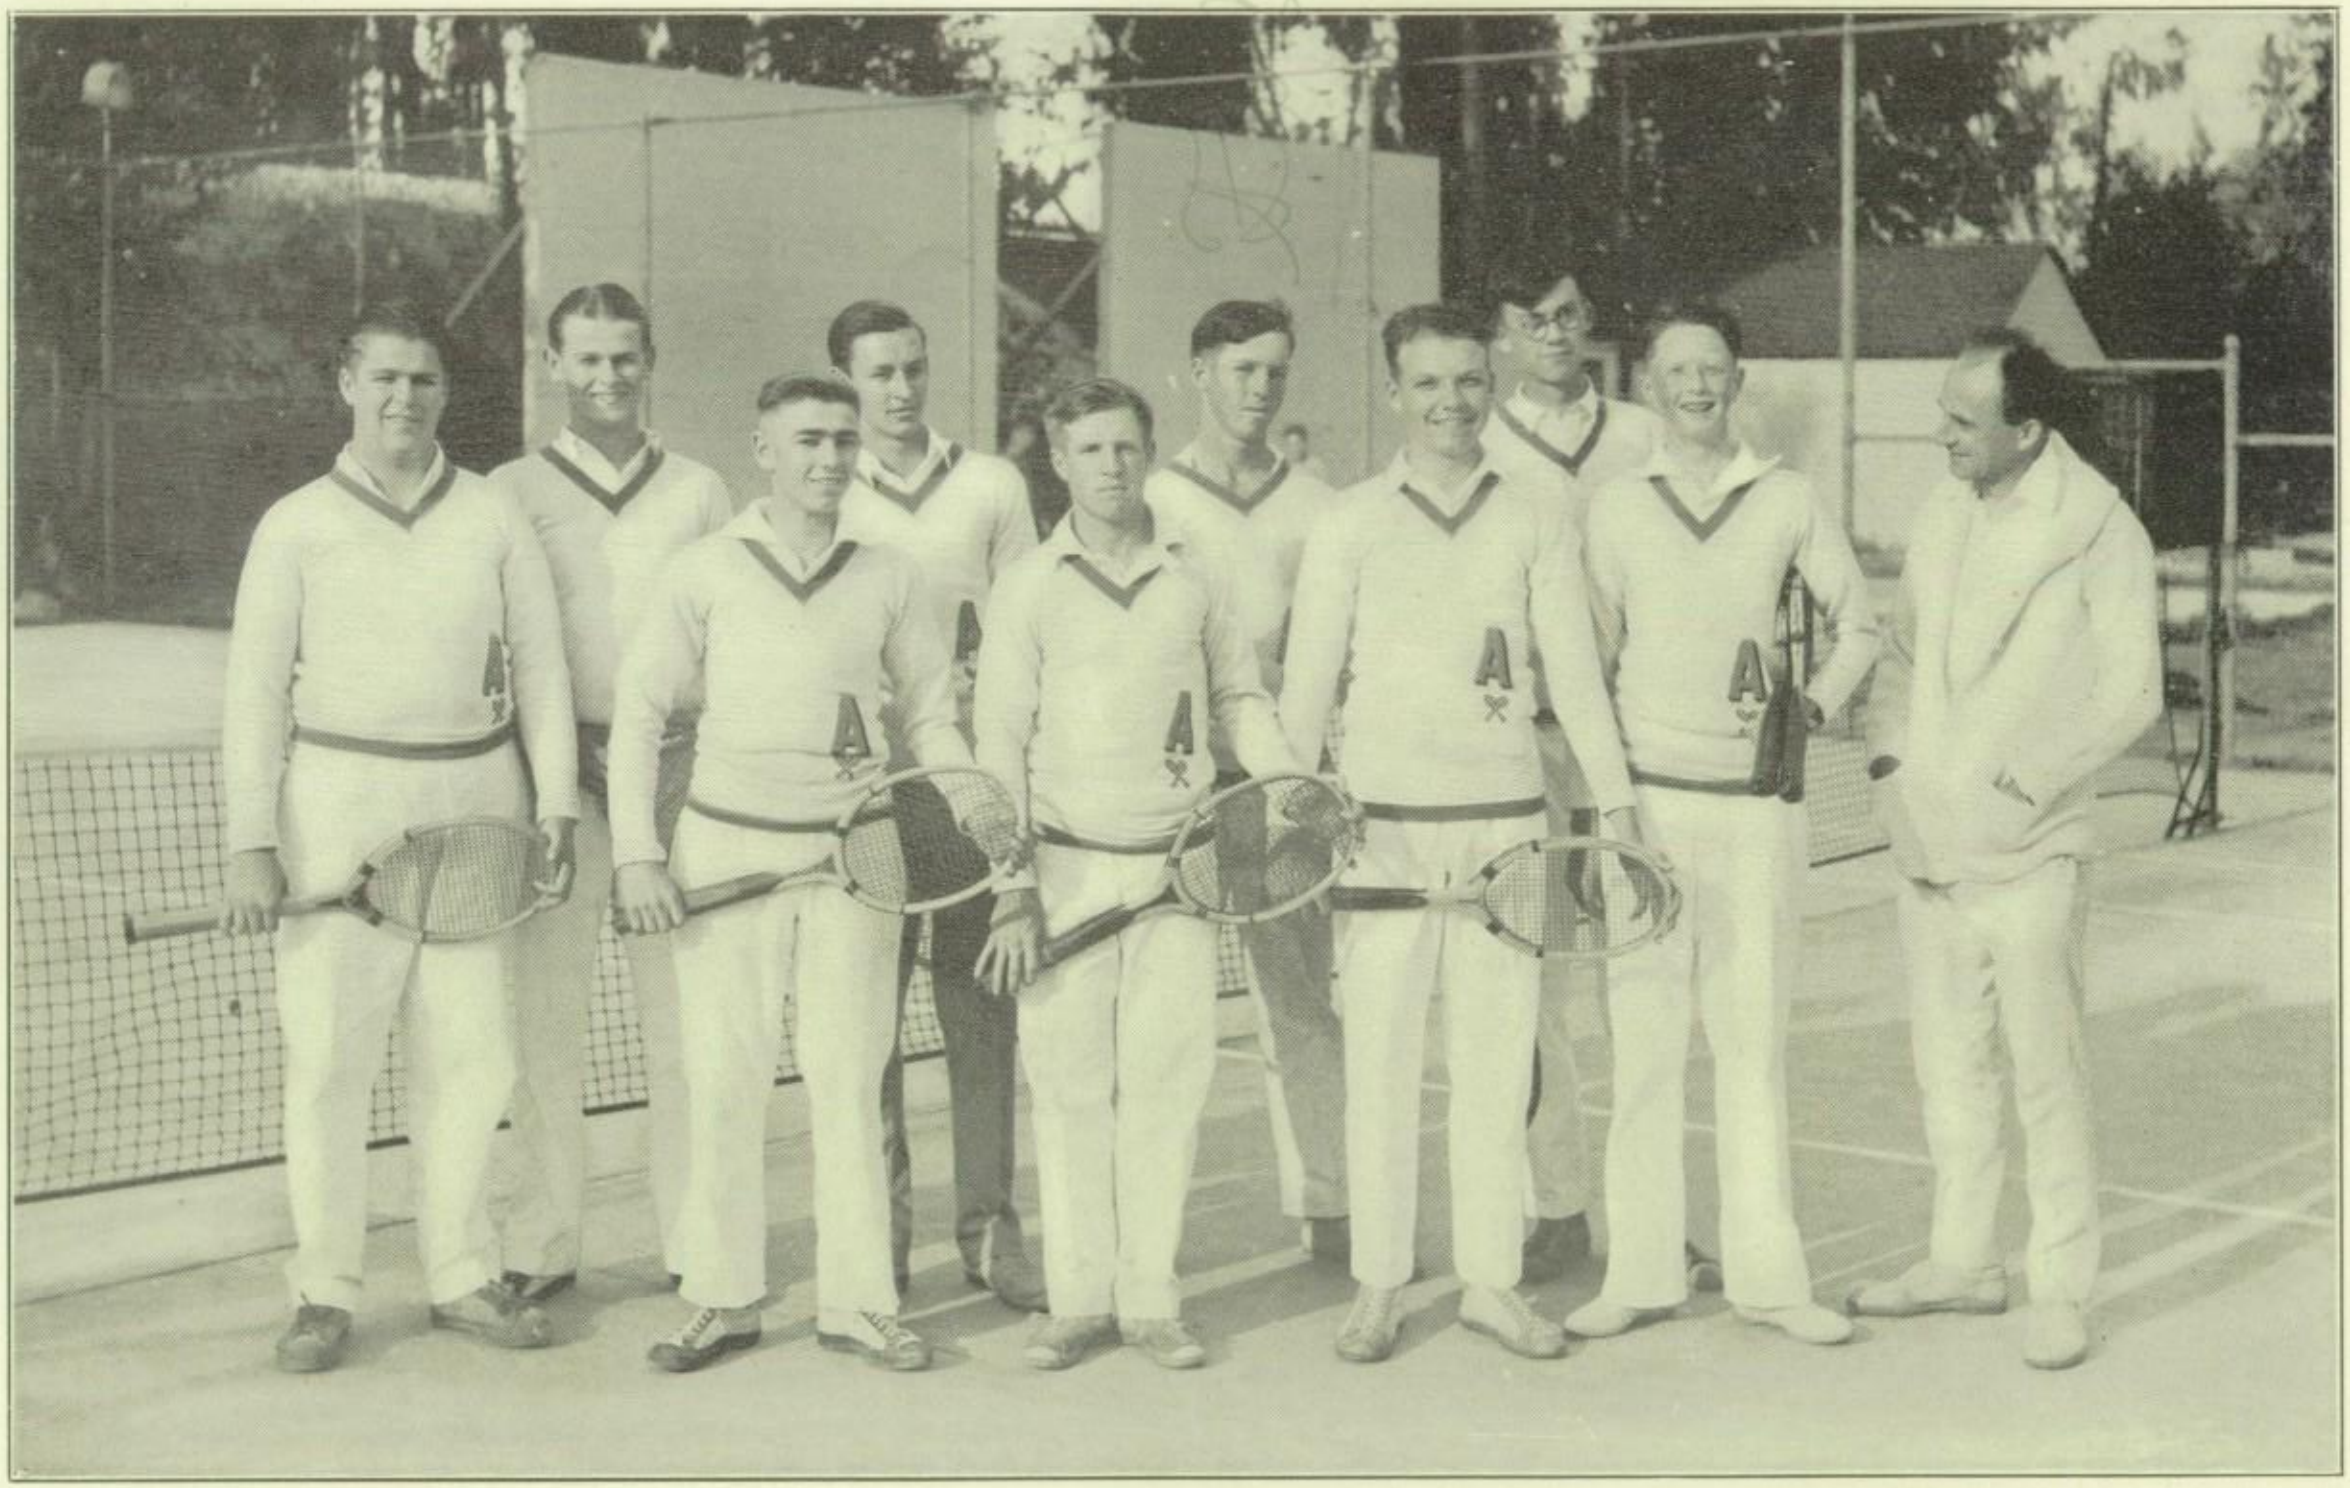
The 1926 Alhambra team is composed of: Frank Blonde, catcher; Flinker and Uhler pitchers; Duncan, first base; Maloney, second base; House, third base; Mohler, shortstop; Nilson, leftfield; Shields, centerfield; Flinker, rightfield. Marvin Nix, Rex Hudson, Glen Lane, and Johnny Miller are the substitutes.

Jack Earle gave a cup to the most valuable player on the team, and O. W. Lewis generously gave out theatre passes to every player that made a hit.

Coach Ranker has some excellent material this year. In Carvel Uhler, southpaw, and Capt. Fred Flinker, he has about every phase of pitching ability needed. Blonde, as backstop, is superb. The infield, which is built around Shortie House, is airtight and each man is a good hitter. The outfield is also worthy of praise for their fly-chasing and hitting qualities.

Alhambra scores follow:

Alhambra	10	San Diego	5
Alhambra	5	Long Beach	1
Alhambra	3	Whittier	5
Alhambra	9	Glendale	3
Alhambra	9	Pasadena	2
Alhambra	13	Santa Ana	0
Alhambra	14	South Pasadena	3
Alhambra	7	Compton	3
Alhambra	?	Santa Barbara	?



Tennis Squad

Varsity Tennis

Tennis at Alhambra High is the one sport that is not restricted to Coast League play. Many outside invitational affairs were entered by Alhambra and we came out fairly successful.

Coach R. E. Horne has always developed a fine team and should have a team developed this season that will come in as undisputed second place place with a fight for the title with San Diego, although they have the odds against them.

The Moors have been very successful in the season of practice matches preparatory to the league season.

Coach R. E. Horne announces that the probable Alhambra line-up throughout the league meet will be Frank Blonde, first singles; Capt. Lewis Behlow, second singles; Bill Rowley, third singles; Art Langton, fourth singles; First doubles, Chuck Blonde and Ed "Rube" Wolff; second doubles, Fat Simmons, paired with Merril Melsheimer. Berry Senior quit school just before the league season and was a great loss to the team.

Coach Horne will have the same team back next year, with the exception of Simmons and Langton, and should have little trouble copping the honors next year.

Carpenteria Tournament

This is an invitational affair and Bill Rowley, Lewis Behlow, Chuck Blonde and "Rube" Wolff represented Alhambra.

All the Alhambrans ran to the semi-finals. Lewis Behlow won the singles championship, and Wolff and Blonde won the doubles cup for the third year, which makes it permanent possession of A. H. S.

Girls' Athletics

Girls athletics at A. H. S. started off with a bang this year. The Seniors won the championship in volley ball.

At the beginning of the hockey season every class had a large turn-out for practice. After many hard-fought games the Sophomores captured the championship of the school. Hockey was started at A. H. S. just last year. Our girls have shown a great deal of interest in this new sport and are rapidly becoming proficient in it.

The Juniors took the basketball championship, after winning by a large score every game they played. All the teams were very good and put up a hard fight.

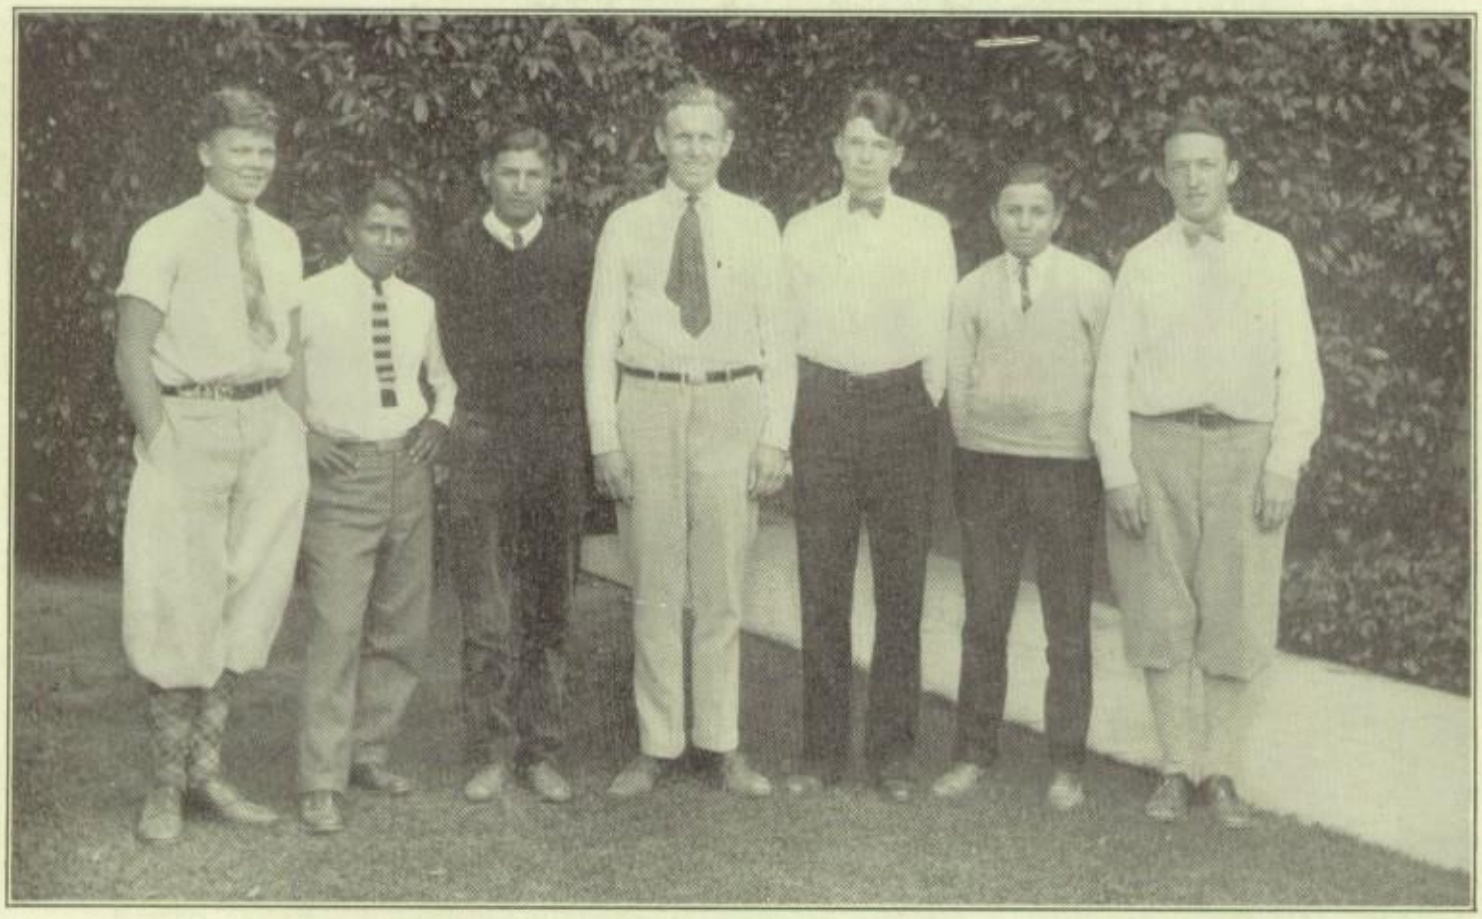
On March sixth our gym teachers took volley ball, hockey, basketball, and tennis teams to Fullerton to the big girls' play-day held there. We met Whittier in volley ball and were defeated. Fullerton beat us in hockey. However, A. H. S. won over Orange in basketball, Long Beach defeated Alhambra in tennis. The games at these play-days are never played off for championships.

Baseball is yet to be played off. This sport will be played after the annual has gone to press. There is great enthusiasm among the girls, and the games will undoubtedly be close. We shall play boys' rules this year.

The system of girls athletics at A. H. S. is handled in such a manner as to produce good sportmanship and a sense of fair play among the girls, not only in athletics, but in everything we do. For a long time girls have not been considered "good sports." We are trying our best to break down this old feeling. Girls can be just as good sports as boys, and have just as much pep. The fairness and good sportsmanship of the girls at Alhambra is fine. Let us keep it up and develop it even more.

Championship Hockey Team

Championship Basketball Team



Varsity Golf

Golf is a new sport at Alhambra this year but seemed to be very popular among the students. Bob Wade, Coach Wilson and Major Elsey deserve the credit for the organization of the new sport which put Alhambra on an equal ranking with other Southern California high schools.

Many matches were played with other schools in which Alhambra was very successful. The first league match was played on the Midwick Country Club course against San Diego, and the Moors swept their opponents off their feet for a 5-0 victory. Alhambra also conquered Pasadena, but lost to Glendale 3-2 and Long Beach, league champions, 4-1. Bob Wade, Tom Webster, Albert Carpenter, Johnny Miller and Efren Mata played for Alhambra, and all but the former are back with the team next year.

Log of ye good Ship "The Moor"

Skipper—CAPTAIN BETTINGER

Sept. 14—We weighed anchor and set sail for "strange ports," with Forrest at the helm, here's to a successful future! The green hands have been thoroughly initiated and turned out to be good sports.

All hands on deck for our first assembly, we surely were full of pep. Of course, the Seniors are first with 100% Student Body.

Oct. 10—Seniors, Sophs, and P. G.'s won the paper drive after lots of hard work, not to mention the fights. Was it worth it? I'll say!

Oct. 16—Football season was opened. San Diego showed us a few things but we're not losing hope. Anyway, what can a team do without rooters?

Oct. 21—The Seniors and Faculty competed to see who could put on the best picnic at the park. We'll have to admit the Faculty acted the most childish. We had the best food, though, especially the doughnuts Mrs. Wood made for us.

Oct. 30—We've all got a secret ambition now to be a prince or princess after seeing the A12 play "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." It was something entirely different and well put on.

Nov. 25—Our dear departed Alumni came aboard for a visit to their alma mater and entertained (also instructed) us in an exceptionally good assembly. The Light and Shadow Club, which has been very active this year put on a play, "Suppressed Desires."

Nov. 26—Ah! We're thirsting for revenge. We met the ship "The Tiger" and they conquered us. But just wait until basketball comes and see what we do to South Pasadena.

Dec. 4—"The Bowery, the Bowery, we don't go there any more—" but we did Friday and had a wonderful time. The Seniors lived up to their reputation and put on a good dance. It was a barn dance and everyone came away vowing it was the best ever staged.

Dec. 11—All off for a glorious vacation. Three cheers for th eschool board for that extra week.

Jan. 4—All aboard again, lots of new togs in sight. Hurray for Santa Claus!

Jan. 15—"Who is the Man?" We who saw the Junior play know and know too that it was a mighty fine play. There's lots of talent in the class, so it looks as if next year would be very successful.

Also our basketball team went to San Diego to open the season and to Elsinore to practice. Of course, we won and the boys had a grand and glorious time.

Jan. 29—We sure hate to see them go but our Seniors are leaving us. They've had a wonderful time, Ditch Day, Class Day, and in a more serious way Commencement and Baccalaureate. We've always got a place for them so here's hoping they come back and visit us often.

Feb. 1—The new semester was started off very efficiently. Various Girls' League Hostesses were seen with the new Freshmen girls under their arms. Welcome to the new Seniors, you've shown yourself to be a real class.

And what do you think? The B9 Frosh beat all the rest of the school except the A12 Seniors by getting 100% Student Body.

Feb. 8—The San Carlo Opera Company gave us "Il Trovatore," due to Miss Shropshire's efforts. We certainly enjoyed it as something really worth while.

Feb. 26—Revenge at last, all our three teams beat South Pasadena. The Tiger must be feeling pretty blue (perhaps black and blue). The games were in the new Athletic Club Gym and the old Alhambra spirit was sure there.

Mar. 5—Another rival downed! Pasadena fell before us in an exciting debate on prohibition. Bob and Fred certainly did their stuff. It certainly seemed natural to have Elwood Harmon back on the stage, even if he was only the chairman.

Mar. 18-19—Romance, love, all on a mid-summer night! Did you see the Senior Play the "Romantic Age." Miss Seaver put on a wonderful play and we'll always remember it.

Another of our always good Wednesday programs, this time Gerome Schaeffer, the impersonator. Did we laugh, oh no!

The Freshmen showed us their stuff by coming over 100% Student Body. Now the Sophs are letting off some of their pep in a skating party, it was surely a success from all reports.

Mar. 27—America's national pastime opened with Alhambra still going strong. We beat San Diego, so here's success to you, team.

Our track performed at the Coliseum and brought home four medals. Mr. Stoddard is surely making track a popular sport in Alhambra.

April 5—Easter vacation is over. Everyone is back looking rather sleepy and with lots of sunburn. Even some of our sedate (?) Faculty went to Balboa and had a good time, apparently.

May 28—The Junior Play was good, exceptionally good, but their Dance was simply wonderful. We surely congratulate the Juniors for giving us such a good time.

Elections! Of course, the best men won. We know next year can't help but be successful with the leaders we are to have.

It's surely hard to leave but I guess we will survive. Ditch Day is over, I don't know how many people we fooled, but anyway, we had a good time. I think our Class Day has set a record that will be hard to beat. Graduation is only a wonderful memory now.

The last Assembly and the peppiest and best of the year. Now all off until next year, may it be the best Alhambra has ever had.

Yell Leaders

Alhambra High School has been fortunate in having the two splendid yell leaders we have had this year. Sam Sollider and Bob Bevan have done splendid work in assemblies and games. They have worked hard and have had, as a result, the good old A. H. S. spirit

The boys have been assisted by two girl yell leaders, Lo Ella Archer and Gwendolyn MacMillen who did very well with the girls section of the Rooters Club. They also saw that the bleechers and field were decorated with our colors at the home games. We felt very proud of all four yell leaders at all of the games and especially the two South Pasadena games when they showed us what they were capable of doing.

A WORD

FROM THE AD MANAGER

Verle Russler

It is essential that every student realize the importance of advertisements in the publication of our annual.

Only through advertisements are we able to publish the "ALHAMBRAN" at a price within the reach of every member of our school. It is for this reason that more support should be given to the advertisers.

A large number of students already patronize the business firms supporting the annual. With the co-operation of everyone—students, parents and friends—we may convince our advertisers of the real value of space in our year book.

It is for you to say:

Fifty-seven ways of Escaping Speed Cops.

1. Upon seeing a cop behind you, draw up at the side of the road, and, sitting on the step, peruse a half-finished cross-word puzzle. You will both stay there for some time.

2. When cop is close behind you, suddenly throw in reverse. When you have finished fishing the cop out of your gas tank, he will be only too glad to accept your spare tire as a souvenir.

3. Never drive over eight miles per hour. This always gives unfailing results, and should be tried when other methods fail.

4. Paint your buggy red, put a bell in front, and trail some hose (no, not silk) behind. This works well in the great open spaces where men are men, and cops are Klansmen.

5. Empty bags of tacks behind you. One pound for each 300 yards is suggested.

6. Construct your auto so that the back is a duplicate of the front. Then when you sight a cop jump in the back seat and drive to meet him. This never fails to work.

(There isn't room for the rest, they aren't as effective either as those mentioned.)

Bien Chère France:

Les jours finissent — bientôt on ne sera plus les "P. G's". But we shall see each other in college, no? Espero que si. J'ai — ( ) ? — × Ce qui m'a amusé beaucoup, c'est ceci:

Toi, tu voulais que "Johnny" gagne,
Moi, je supportais a "Tommy",
C'était comme la guerre entre la
France et l'Allemagne —
Et moi j'étais la France — what was the result?

Mi mayor amiga, no sé como se pasará el resto sin verte cada día. ( ) ? Je ne sais que dire, je voudrais te faire rire — mais, comment faire cela quand moi j'ai envie de pleurer.

France, I've teased you lots about yours cases, you've teased me nought about mine, why? Pienso que habia buena razón por eso. ( ) ? — ? — 6 × J'ai le coeur dûr — dûr comme un pierre, mais il me semble que maintenant il tourne en lait.

Good-bye for the present — we'll certainly see each other many times again — and, it's no use saying what I think of you — just recollect that I've gone with you two years + [illegible]

Dear Frances:

We have had our ups and downs (I am afraid it's mostly "downs" ! ~ and-oft when all is said, I never knew a better sport, or a kid more full of "it" & pickers than you. (I just refilled the pen)

When you think of the B. Y.. Camps and our daily hikes to the beach, don't forget our "enjoyable" walk to Santa Monica - and the awful loss of your shoe:

Please don't forget all these things - and whatever you do, please do not forget me.

Sincerely,
Russ!

Dear Frances;

Well, we part for the present - but I'm sure we will meet again. Very sincerely yours,

Thomas Lee Hargue
"Tommy, '30"

Dear Frances:

Will you ever forget the first C. C. C. skating party? I am sure I will not. This was one thing by which we can remember each other. Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Correspondence - I have loved having you for a friend. You are so good natured and jolly - a real friend. Do you suppose we will ever meet again. I hope so!!! Well, don't forget your good-for- nothing friend.

of A. H. S. Dot Keeney. 8-27.

Dear Frances:-

Remember our good times in Shorthand and all the others. I hope your poetical instincts will continue to improve and that our first attempts in that line will not be forgotten. It was really too bad that we didn't show Mr. Henry our masterpiece concerning him although I am sure he would appreciate it. He is a know-it-all in spite of his decided views as to the wild and frivolous modern generation which did not change even if you did tell him at least a dozen times, that the present generation is a great improvement over the past one as they can get along with much less sleep. In regard to the criticism of our second poetical achievement, John Noe Beattie is the cognomen by which we desire to refer to him, he is not much a bad one either. Of course we will have to admit that at times he Kemper causes us to "scamper down the halls" and we tremble (?) when he begins to "tell us facts". Don't forget the "Chariot". The next time we go attempted slaughter of the gang in the future fishing I hope we will get more than four of the above mentioned sea inhabitants. Also, I hope that the next time you will be so desperately afraid of driver of the car, as you were last time. If I ever, ever take typing again, I think I will get my short speeds at once and not have to lose my hand. By all the relics if I don't suppose you will ever forget the radio Program at K.F.B.I. and the resulting war. I hope we never have such a violent fight again. That was a very drastic one and the consequences were nearly as bad as the conflict itself. However, as that has all blown over we can let the subject go. Well I think I have used up enough space + enough ink so I guess I'll quit.

Lots of love to my dearest friend of '24

Irene.

(a fellow P.B.)

P.S. Don't forget your "platonic love" characteristics and all the lengthy epistles we wrote concerning them. Also remember the night of the Brookside party, after which we sojourned to Lincoln Park & indulged in a very exciting (?) game of follow the leader & then went on the "scenic railway". I hope we will have many more good times like these. Keep your "master mind" in good working order, as it may come in handy some day. Love. D.F.

Remember the old K.F.B.I.

And Dottie.

Sincerely Alice

Dear Francis,

I sure hope you will remember me and I will remember you. Lots of luck "Soggy" Palmer

My dear P. G.

The year is drawing to a close.
Our work is nearly done.
You have been a faithful student,
Been with us in work and fun.
We've joked in class, yet studied,
We've had pet names every one,
With "Tommie Child" and John Roe,
And all other names under the sun.
There was Susie, and Mary & Ce le nē'
Samantha and "Irenie" too,
Your name Miss Frances Andres
You're rather hard to pick, tis true.
But all the same Miss Fannie,
Great fun we all had together,
We skated -- what fun,
But now all is done,
And now we no more will gather.

But anyway, keep going,
Don't forget all lessons done,
For shorthand is not difficult
There's nothing new under the sun.

John N Beattie.

Now please remember me as a good friend, & I hope it will be some time, before I have to say the final "Good Bye." This is just a "Good Bye" to our wonderful school days that we will never go thru again.

I will, as a friend always be ready to advise or help you at any time or any place, and I hope I may go to your fair & be taking to much room in your book, so I want to tell you again, I am & always shall be your friend, & you shall always be to me, one of my best friends, & one of the best pals that I ever knew.

Remember, this is only a Good Bye to school days. Your Friend,

Opal Gibbs.

(Remember Annie)
